Army Base Warehouses Could Become Available to Area in Fall

RECOLLECTIONS OF THE PRESIDENT, Lyndon B. Johnson, include memories by local residents of this stop at Scott Air Force Base Oct. 21, 1964. Here a Press-Record staff photographer caught Johnson and Gov. Otto Kerner of Illinois, to the left of Johnson, greeting well-wishers. The President's hands were bruised from hand-shaking on the re-election campaign trail. Former President Johnson died suddenly Monday evening and the country is observing a 30-day period of mourning.

Area Hails Peace, Mourns for 'LBJ'

The Quad-City area today joined the nation in observing a day of mourning for former President Lyndon B. Johnson.

On Saturday, from 6 p.m. to 7 p.m., church bells will ring throughout this community, heralding the start of a cease-fire marking the close of the Vietnam War. This Sunday will be "a day of celebration for peace" at Quad-City churches.

Pres. Johnson, 64, suffered a fatal heart attack at his Johnson City, Tex., ranch late Monday afternoon. He was transported by airplane for treatment but was pronounced dead aboard his private plane at the San Antonio Airport.

Funeral services were held today in the Washington National City Christian Church after he lay in state in the Capitol rotunda yesterday. Burial was set for 4 p.m. today in Stoneham, Tex.

He last visited the Illinois portion of the St. Louis metropolitan area when he was campaigning successfully for election in 1964, having advanced to the White House upon the death of President John F. Kennedy in 1963.

He declined to seek reelection in 1968, and had been in declining health recently due to a heart ailment.

Federal offices and mail service were closed today due to the day of mourning. The Granite City hall was to close at noon today in respect to the memory of former President Johnson. Courthouse offices at Edwardsville also were to close at noon today. Court activity was to continue and the circuit clerk's office was to remain open, however.

The plan for local churches to observe Tuesday night's peace agreement by ringing their bells for an hour starting at 8 p.m. Saturday — the exact time of the cease-fire — were announced by Rev. Donald Bonue, president of the Quad-Cities Ministerial Association.

The association also asked that all churches devote their services this Sunday to celebration of the attainment of peace after this nation's longest war. Thirty-seven Quad-Cities gave their lives in the armed forces during the Vietnam fighting.

to identify the MIAs, if possible, she said. Debriefing of the former prisoners of war also is expected to turn up previously unknown information about the missing, authorities told the families.

"The North Vietnamese are known to be very meticulous in their record keeping and very capable of accounting for planes shot down," Mrs. Innes said.

L.B.J. VISIT to Scott Air Force Base is one of the many memories local residents have of former President Lyndon B. Johnson. To the right of the podium is U. S. Sen. Portions of the Granite City Army Installation not now being used for housing and Army personnel support activities will soon be "up for sale," possibly in about nine months, the Press-Record learned in conversations with Pentagon officials in Washington, D.C. this week.

A high official of the Real Estate Branch of the Army Materiel Command at the National Airport in Washington said Tuesday the Army Aviation Systems Command (AVSCOM) will not relocate from St. Louis to Granite City, as has been rumored in recent years.

He added that "only the papers" need to be signed before the portions of the installation not in use will be given to the U.S. General Services Administration for "disposal."

The official said disposal of the former Engineer Depot is "an old thing that's been hanging around for a long time."

"It has no bearing on the end of the Vietnam war. It is just something that has not been finished. We're going to get rid of it very shortly," he asserted.

He said the AVSCOM Facilities Review Board, which has been studying possible relocation of AVSCOM to another base, has reached its decision and the decision is not a favorable one for the Granite City base. "High rent" paid by AVSCOM in St. Louis has been a factor in speculation about a move across the Mississippi River.

His contention that a decision has been reached was denied by an aide to Dudley Messin, deputy assistant secretary, Army installations and logistics, in the Pentagon.

The aide said the AVSCOM study board is digesting the information it has collected and is sitting on the relocation issue until it sees what the Army and other services have which may be available.

The real estate branch official, contacted again and informed of the aide's statement said the papers just are not signed yet and he doesn't have his orders to release that. The board has reached its decision, he reiterated, adding that he is "expecting" the decision to dispose of the Granite City Installation momentarily.

George Brazier, chairman of the AVSCOM relocation board and deputy assistant secretary for Army installations and housing, was not in Washington this week and was unavailable for comment.

It was disclosed that the board, organized in late July, had held its most recent meeting in mid-December and other meetings may be called by the chairman on the AVSCOM issue.

The statement indicated that no decision has been

'Ma Bell' Ignored 'Speed' Road by Writing Letter

Granite City council members hope to learn in their regular Feb. 5 council session who, if anyone, is holding up the Maryville Road project—a joint city-county plan to extend the roadway from its present terminal at Pontoon Road to skirt the eastern edge of the city.

Acting on a motion by Alderman Clyde Boyd, the council voted Monday night to write letters to County Board Chairman Nelson Hagauer and William Webb, chairman of the County Board's right-of-way committee, inviting them to attend the Feb. 5 meeting to discuss the status of the road plan.

The invitation to the two county officials was suggested by Boyd after he noted that a quoted representative of both the county and the city saying one another were delaying the Maryville Road improvement.

"I believe it has been some 28 months ago we (the city) entered into an agreement with the county to extend Maryville Road, and I have always been understanding that the city was ready to go with the project at any time," Boyd said.

"I believe that the situa-

TRAGEDY SCENE at 17 Iris Court in Pontoon Beach where two men were burned critically when fumes from gasoline they were using to wash the garage floor exploded at 9:15 p.m. Tuesday. Both men were set ablaze and were helped by fast-acting neighbors who rushed to their assistance and extinguished their burning clothing and hair. Long Lake volunteer firemen, examining the garage for signs of fire, are, from left, Junior Fireman Willie Arnold, Otto Kreher, assistant chief of the emergency corps and president of the village board, and Fireman Kenny Woodward.

Blast Burns 2; Man Dies

One man was burned fatally and another was burned critically when fumes from gasoline they were using to clean a garage floor exploded at 9:15 p.m. Tuesday.

Harvey Canimore, 34, owner of the Quiet Valley house, and a friend, John Peppiller, 32, of 27 Moorland Drive, Mitchell, were taken to the intensive care unit of St. John's Mercy Hospital, St. Louis, with second and third degree burns over nearly all of their bodies.

Mr. Canimore died at St. John's Mercy Hospital at 8:45 a.m. today.

They were ablate after the explosion and their burning clothing and hair were extinguished by fast-acting neighbors, according to witnesses.

They were taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth

Hospital and were transferred to the St. Louis hospital. Enroute to the hospital here, they reportedly told how the explosion occurred.

Canimore and Peppiller told rescuers they had been working on an auto engine in the garage earlier and were using gasoline to remove oil from the concrete garage floor when the explosion occurred.

They had left the overhead garage door open about two and one-half feet and after the explosion, Peppiller ran under the door and to a car parked in front of the house.

A neighbor across the street, David Reames, 16 Iris Court, heard the explosion and saw Peppiller ablate. He said he had to knock Peppiller to the ground so he could extinguish his burning clothing and hair, using only his shirt.

Another neighbor, Alan Hagler, 14 Iris Court, ran over and finished extinguishing the fire on Peppiller while Reames ran to the open garage door where Canimore was calling for help.

He had fallen in the doorway and was halfway in the burning garage, witnesses said. Reames braved flames which were coming about five feet out from under the doorway to pull Canimore to safety and extinguish his burning clothing and hair.

Reames suffered burns to both hands and his right leg which required treatment at St. Elizabeth Hospital. He said later that while he was helping Peppiller, Canimore, who was his friend, kept calling to him for help.

Apparently Canimore could not tell which direction was out as the flames and all

Ecology Study to Delay Underpass

By WALTER STRANGE
Press-Record Staff Writer

Relocation of Broadway in Venice to connect with the Broadway underpass and construction of approaches to McKinley Bridge could be delayed as much as a year and a half due to a "4f declaration" requirement, Mayor John E. Lee of Venice told the City Council Tuesday night.

According to the U. S. Department of Transportation, final approval of the project is prohibited by section four (f) of the Department of Transportation Act which has to do with adverse environmental effects upon the land.

Since a small portion of 21 of an acre in the northwest corner of the 32.16 acre park is to be used, the city of Venice must furnish "proof" that there is no feasible and prudent alternative to the use of such land, and that the program includes all possible planning to minimize harm resulting from such use.

According to Mayor Lee, legal procedure through the Federal channels of government bodies and departments to prove that there will be ample park left with trees and grass for the people of Venice could delay the project as much as a year and a half.

The mayor informed the council that he is preparing letters, pictures, maps and affidavits for Congressman Melvin Price, and U. S. Senators Adlai E. Stevenson and Charles Percy in an effort to have the "4f declaration" waived by the Federal Department of Transportation.

Mayor Lee noted the land in question is small, and that an agreement with the Venice park board made in November 1966 when the city owned all the portions provided that the small portions of lots nine and 10 be given the city for the new underpass. The city then would be the remaining 31.75 acres to the Park Board.

Lee urged everyone interested in the project to write the two U. S. senators and Congressmen Price to intercede with the Department of Transportation and request a waiver of the "4f declaration."

Only the property designated and set aside by the city in 1966 actually will be used and in reality Lee Park will not be disturbed in anyway, Mayor Lee said.

He noted out that an estimated loss of $26,000 in bridge revenue due to a further decrease in traffic is predicted this year. When Broadway is relocated, bridge traffic would pick up considerably and offset the projected loss in revenue, the mayor added.

Local Girl Senate Page

Senator Charles H. Percy (R., Ill.) has announced the appointment of Kimberly Carol Walker, 17, of Pontoon Beach, as Illinois' second female Senate Page.

Miss Walker, a Granite City High School senior, arrived in Washington, D.C., during the holidays and has since been admitted the oath.

She is attending classes at the U. S. House of Representatives will serve as Senate Page until June.

The local student is a daughter of Mrs. William R. Rodgers, 19 Fontainebleau Drive, and Clifford Walker of Zeigler, Ill. In announcing Miss Walker's appointment, Percy said, "Carol was selected from hundreds of applicants because of her outstanding record of scholastic achievement and her enthusiastic participation in various extra-curricular activities."

"I am sure she'll become an outstanding member of the Senate Page group."

Miss Walker represented the

made an where to relocate AVSCOM, if at all, but that the Granite City base has been ruled out and the Army has given its permission for the Army to "do as it pleases" with the local installation. Even the name of the base, formerly Headquarters, Installation and Support Activity for AVSCOM, has been changed. It will be known as the U.S. Army St. Louis Area Support Center, the official said. Plans to construct 200 additional dwelling units are proceeding and the post exchange and other necessary facilities will remain open, it was indicated.

The official described the continuing function of the base as "housing and miscellaneous support of Army personnel in the St. Louis area."

Once an official order to dispose of excess land and buildings not to be used in the current role, has been issued, the property must be approved by Congress, it was said.

"There usually is a gestation period of about nine months before the birth of any governmental project," he said.

Once the GSA has received authority to dispose of the property, it likely will explore possible other governmental uses for the facility, such as military reserve training, before making it available to civilian agencies, he said.

If it does come to the point of being offered or sold to civilian agencies, municipal government or park districts may be given first chance at the facilities.

Only after all of these possibilities were exhausted could GSA offer the land for sale by bid, at which time private industries could purchase land, warehouse or other excess facilities on the base, according to the official.

When the order to halt the supply functions of the old Granite City Army Depot came in March 1970, the Army listed 297 buildings on the 726-acre facility.

There were 1,501,000 square feet of warehousing space and an additional 724,000 square feet of shed space under roof. Since then, about 20 smaller buildings have been torn down for repair. These were wooden structures built during World War II and Vietnam War eras.

A Granite City Army Installation spokesman this week said that many of the buildings still are in use and that more may be used as the number of housing units increases for such uses as a new movie theater, a larger base exchange and other expanded facilities necessary to provide for more families.

All of the office buildings are in use and are expected to be replaced, he said. The warehouses, however, are expected to be among the properties which will be disposed of by the GSA.

It is unknown how much land may be given to GSA for disposal. A small quarry along the Mississippi River is being given to the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers for levee purposes and additional land is being given to the Illinois Highway Division for expansion of Federal Aid Route 151. Such uses would total less than 50 acres, it was indicated.

There is no way to determine precisely how much land or how many buildings can be considered "not in use" at this time without bringing accountants onto the base to study present and anticipated needs, the spokesman said.

Each an accounting will be necessary before transactions with GSA can be completed, unless a study already has been conducted without the knowledge of base personnel, he said.

It was emphasized by base officials here and by AVSCOM officials in St. Louis this week that they have received no word of plans for the future of the Granite City Installation from the Department of Defense.

Conduct Charge Filed Against Brooklyn Man
Murder Marshall, 24, of Brooklyn, was charged with disorderly conduct at 9:10 a.m. Wednesday, when he reported to Granite City police headquarters.

Police said the charge stemmed from an incident at 6:50 p.m. Monday, when a man drove into the Sonic Service Station, 1817 Madison Ave., obtained $4 worth of gasoline and left without paying for the purchase.

Social Dance Classes Are Still Open at 'Y'

Social dancing is on an upswing across the country and "with it," Kay Jones, dancing instructor, is leading a beginners' class at 8 p.m. and an advanced class at 9 p.m. on Thursdays at the YMCA.

Registrations are still being taken for the course, which started Jan. 11; there are 10 weeks of lessons remaining. The fee is prorated for late sign-ups. There is a single member or non-member fee, as well as a reduced price for couples.

Different dance steps are taught and reviewed each week to help the student enjoy dancing and dances more, as well as obtain a fine physical fitness exercise, a spokesman said. "Anyone may contact the YMCA at 876-7200 for more details."

the program. The motion was approved unanimously by the 11 members attending Monday night's council session.

Walter Norn, who served as mayor pro-tem during Monday's meeting in the absence of Mayor Donald Partney, told the council, "I want it to be known that I had no discussion with Webb about the Maryville Road project."

He was referring to a news story quoting Webb as saying that he had been told by Norn that the county was responsible for delaying the Maryville Road project. Webb said at the same time that the city had been the cause of delay.

Meanwhile, Carl Buehler, a County Board member from Granite City District 21 and a member of the County Board right-of-way committee, told the Press-Record that neither the city nor the county is responsible for delaying the project because the working plans are not yet completed by the engineering firm of Sheppard, Morgan & Schwaab of Granite City.

"I have learned that the plans will be complete in three to four weeks," Buehler said, "but until that time, neither the city nor the county can begin acquisition of right-of-way for the new four-lane highway."

The Maryville Road improvement was developed in 1970 when the county approved a $1.5 million appropriation for its share of the cost and the city appropriated $350,000 as its share.

The proposed highway would extend the present four-lane Maryville Road from Pontoon Road southward to skirt the eastern edge of Granite City. Both the city and county will finance the work with motor fuel tax funds.

MORE ABOUT Blast

he could do was call for help. Canimore's next door neighbor, Donald Kelley, 15 Iris, said when he heard the explosion, he thought it was his own home.

He went outside, saw the flames and turned on his garden hose to try to extinguish the blaze inside the garage.

Long Lake volunteer firemen arrived minutes later and called ambulances to the scene. Several other persons also reported calling for firemen and ambulances.

Neighbors said they placed coats and coverings over Peppermiller and Canimore and tried to make them comfortable. Members of the Long Lake Emergency Corps covered the victims with blankets until the ambulances arrived.

Both remained conscious during the ordeal and talked to the people assisting them. Canimore's wife accompanied the men in the ambulance to the hospitals.

The fire was confined to the garage and caused about $1,500 damage, according to firemen. It is unknown what ignited the gasoline fumes but a small spark could have been enough, they indicated.

Most of the neighbors in the area assisted in removing the family's belongings from the home and took them to Reames' garage.

Auditions Friday For 'Goldiggers'

Television producer Greg Garrison, the creator of the singing and dancing troupe "The Goldiggers," will be in St. Louis Friday to hold auditions for replacements for the group.

Open auditions will be held at the KMOX-TV studios, 1 Memorial Drive, starting at noon. Hopefuls are asked to bring rehearsal costumes and sheet music for at least one musical selection. They should arrive by 11:45 a.m.

The Goldiggers, whose weekly television program is broadcast Tuesday nights, are among the highest paid groups in show business. The girls participate in a profit sharing plan which includes revenue from their television show, personal appearances and record sales.

"Previous professional experience is not necessarily a requirement," Garrison said, "but a prerequisite is equal proficiency in both singing and dancing. If a girl has the best voice in the world," he said, "but can't really dance well... we can't use her. And the opposite is also true."

All applicants must be between the ages of 18 and 22, attractive, photogenic, free to travel and single.

"Marriage," emphasized Garrison, "is the number one Goldigger 'no, no,' but it continues to take its annual toll of girls, and that, of course, is why we hold auditions every year."

This is the first year auditions have been held in St. Louis. Previously, Garrison searched only Los Angeles, Chicago and New York for talent.

SIUE Chemical Society Chapter Is Chartered

A chapter of student affiliates of the American Chemical Society has been approved by the Council Committee on Chemical Education for Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The charter was presented Wednesday by Thomas Layloff, chairman of the midwest section of the American Chemical Society. Dr. Layloff is a member of the chemistry department at St. Louis University.

Pamela Sue Zeisler of East Alton, a junior at SIUE, is president of the new chapter. Ronald Hacksadt, Okemo, is vice-president, and Barry Breuggeman, Edwardsville, is secretary-treasurer. Both Hacksadt and Breuggeman are juniors at SIUE. Stephen Hall, assistant professor of chemistry, is faculty sponsor.

"When we began working toward an affiliate society three years ago everyone said we'd never make it because we're a commuter campus," Miss Zeisler said, "but we did."

Charter members include Linda Chapman and Steve Cuppett, both of Granite City.

Hearing on Treatment Plant Deadline Friday

A hearing on a variance request by the city of Granite City for a deadline of Dec. 31 this year for completion of the city's secondary sewage treatment plant will be held in the city hall at 10 a.m. tomorrow.

The hearing will be conducted by the Illinois State Environmental Protection Agency on a petition by the city asking that the deadline date for completion of secondary treatment

The city sets out in its petition that construction permits have not been issued by state or federal EPA officials and that it would be impossible to meet the Dec. 31, 1973, deadline without an around-the-clock construction schedule that would increase cost of the plant by as much as $2 million.

and a jar of peanut butter, valued at $1.16, at Tri-City Grocery store in Bellefonte Village Shopping Center at 11:30 a.m. Tuesday. He was referred to the Coordinated Youth Services agency, however.

Store personnel said the youth stuffed the food items beneath his shirt and tried to leave the store. The youthful shoplifter told the employees he was hungry and doesn't get lunch money as his father is unemployed.

Park Building Plans Studied

Preliminary plans for a new maintenance building in West Park are expected to cost about $77,000 and were approved tentatively by the Granite City Board of Public Commissioners at a meeting last night.

Additionally, the commissioners certified filing data submitted by three candidates who will seek two seats on the board in the April 17 park district election.

The candidates are Clarence Baumeister, 2111 Bryan Ave., Robert Patrick, 1617 Pontoon Road and Jack Jake Hinterser Jr., 3707 Fair Oaks Drive.

Schematic drawings of the proposed new building were exhibited by architect Virgil Dulgeroff. The masonry structure, constructed in an L-shape design, will have dimensions of 60x77.4-feet, with the long back section a total of 109-feet in overall length.

A fence will be erected from one end to the opposite wing to form a closed square, Dulgeroff said.

The building which will house the park district's maintenance vehicles is to be located near the existing garage, extending south toward the swimming pool.

DAMAGED IN ACCIDENT

The cars of Arthur Singleton, Brooklyn, and Rodney Rusick, 1825 Sixth St., Madison, were damaged in an accident on Bissell Street at the railroad tracks in Venice during the weekend.

FACES THREE CHARGES

Robert Evans, 2842 Ralph St., was charged with attempting to elude police, reckless driving and speeding after Granite City police stopped his car at 14th and State streets during the weekend.

Boundaries Set For High Schools And Junior Highs

Boundaries were established by the Granite City Board of Education last night for fall 1973, when two high schools and two junior high schools will be operated.

Boundaries for the present (South) and new (North) high schools were set as initially proposed — Pontoon and Maryville Roads separate the two attendance zones.

With Central Junior High being phased out this spring, and ninth graders reporting to high schools rather than junior highs, seventh and eighth graders will be taught at Grigsby, Coolidge and Prather.

At the suggestion of about 30 parents who were present, the board decided to follow an existing Prather-Coolidge boundary near 24th Street in the vicinity of Cleveland, Delmar, Edison and State. A switch to 25th Street had been under consideration.

No other revisions were discussed and the junior high zones were adopted as publicly presented, except for the 24th-25th area.

Maryville Road and the alley north of Woodlawn Avenue separate Coolidge and Grigsby.

The board last night decided to assign high school special education students to GCHS South, which will allow for coordination of the seventh-through-twelfth grades program for the handicapped, since the seventh and eighth graders go to Coolidge.

Supr. Bob J. Davis reported that federal fund cutbacks may trim the school district's Public Law 844 receipts for 1972-73 by more than $100,000.

Fourteen-year-old Hemphill was designated as Prather ninth grade track coach for this spring, and Mrs. Mary A. Bright was employed as a temporary teacher of high school vocal music.

A socially maladjusted class established at Lake Grant School, with Mrs. Jean Zotti hired to teach it.

Schuler to Head Heart Drive Here

Paul Schuler, Granite City alderman and businessman, will direct the 1973 Heart Fund drive in this community. Assistant Drive Chairman Sam M. Vadalabene announced today.

In accepting the post, Schuler commented, "As one whose profession keeps me in constant contact with public health problems, it's a matter of extreme importance to me that heart research be properly funded."

Schuler operates the Midtown Pharmacy, 2037 Johnson Road. He is a man like Paul Schuler to spearhead the Heart Fund drive in his home area.

"As a lifetime resident, I have been actively concerned in every facet of community betterment. There are many pressures on his schedule, particularly at this time, so I consider that we were singularly fortunate to secure his services."

No one is immune from heart and blood vessel diseases, Vadalabene continued. "They claimed 38% of the people died in this country last year."

Schuler, 41, is the father of seven children. Formerly president of the Granite City Board, he is currently serving on the City Council.

His active participation in community programs including membership in the Elks, Eagles, Moose, Knights of Columbus, American Legion, Amvets and Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Melvin Hill Files in Aldermanic Election

Nominating petitions as a candidate for the aldermanic post in Ward Two were filed with City Clerk Robert Stevens today by Melvin "Red" Hill, 2326 Delmar Ave.

Hill makes up the only opposition thus far to incumbent Alderman Frank Greenwald in that ward.

Filing of petitions for the Granite City April 3 municipal elections will end Monday with the closing of the city clerk's office at 5 p.m. Candidates for township offices also are filed with Stevens.

Meanwhile, Stevens announced that forms for filing ethics statements with the office of County Clerk Eulalia Hotz at Edwardsville are available at his office. Stevens said that all candidates must file the statements by the end of the filing period in the particular election in which they are seeking office.

In the case of the Granite City municipal balloting, ethics statements must be filed with the county clerk by Monday. The statements by local candidates require only the name and identity of any business in which the individual owns more than $5,000 of its assets, or from which he receives more than $1,200 in dividends or salary, and if the business deals with a local unit of government in which the individual is involved.

Kevin Thornberry on Europe, Russia Tour

Thirteen students at MacMurray College, Jacksonville, Ill., are participating in a 20-day study tour taking them to London, Paris, Leningrad and Moscow. The group includes Kevin Thornberry of Granite City.

The students are enrolled in a course on "Anatomy of Revolution." Taught by Dr. Michael Bilim, it concentrates study on the causes and results of the English, French and Russian revolutions. In their travels, the students will visit museums, landmarks and historical sites related to their studies.

The special study tour is one of four offered in the "January period" between fall and spring semesters.

Other trips sponsored by MacMurray College include trips to England, to the Bahamas, and to Norway, Sweden, Denmark and Germany. The January term is an optional week-end session in which students may earn four hours of credit for concentrated study of one subject.

Disturbance Results In Weapon Charges

Responding to a call that a disturbance was taking place at a residence in the 1300 block of Edwardsville Road at 3:40 a.m. Wednesday, Granite City police arrested Danny Taylor, 19, of 1739 Delmar Ave., and booked him on four separate charges.

Officers said Taylor was in a car parked in front of 1308 Edwardsville Road when they arrived. A rifle was found lying on the back floor of the vehicle.

The weapon was confiscated and Taylor was taken into custody and charged with criminal damage to property, unlawful use of a weapon, no firearm identification card and disorderly conduct. The latter is a state charge, police said.

New Suspension System for 100-Ton Rail Freight Cars Developed by American Steel

American Steel Foundries, an operating unit of AMSTED Industries announced on Tuesday development of the T-11 suspension system for 100-ton capacity freight cars.

The company says it will sharply improve safety and riding qualities, increase component life, decrease damage to track and reduce railroad cargo losses.

The T-11 was introduced to the public for the first time at AMSTED's annual stockholders' meeting in Chicago Tuesday. It was developed over a period of three years at a cost of more than $1,000,000.

Carl O. Sundberg, ASF president, termed the new system "significantly improved" and said, "It is capable of high performance, safety and greater life expectancy at any level speed under today's railroad track conditions."

He noted that the T-11 helps overcome major railroad operating problems with 100-ton freight cars, including the harmful effects of rough track on fully loaded cars and uncontrolled swiveling of unloaded cars.

Recent on-track tests revealed the T-11 system reduced the damaging effects of lateral shock to an unloaded freight car by as much as 75% at speeds above 50 miles an hour. It also reduces the damaging effects of vertical shock inside a loaded car by as much as 60%, Sundberg related.

"In addition," Sundberg said, "the T-11 system better controls car rocking at any speed, over any track, whether in the loaded or unloaded condition."

The results were obtained during a series of comprehensive tests beginning in 1971 aboard ASF's test train, a highly instrumented rolling laboratory which evaluates new products under actual operating conditions.

The ride is in comparison with a conventional 100-ton truck.

The ASF president said the better riding qualities of the T-11 should result in longer life for such related truck components as side frames, bolsters, control elements, center plates, snubbing devices, springs and pedestals.

He noted that because of the good test results, ASF will offer railroad customers a warranty for all major T-11 components—including side frames, bolsters and control elements.

Other benefits from the new system include improved life for wheels and car bodies, less track damage, low maintenance costs and greater freight car availability.

Sundberg stressed that the "T-11's markedly improved ride at any speed resulted from a total systems engineering approach to the entire railroad car truck rather than merely modifying individual components."

He added that the T-11 suspension system was studied extensively for 100-ton capacity freight cars and was not a redesign of a truck intended for 70-ton equipment.

Two major engineering breakthroughs, Sundberg said, were a better snubbing system to absorb and dissipate energy as well as a substantial design change allowing the T-11 to use longer-travel, load-carrying coil springs.

These springs have 27% more reserve travel than conventional coil springs which means they can absorb more energy as they move over rough track. This substantially reduces the number of jarring shocks transmitted to the car body and the goods carried inside, he added.

Warrior Matmen Face Three Tough Weekend Battles Here

The Granite City High School wrestlers will move tomorrow into what will likely be the roughest single weekend of the season, with the exception of the season-ending tournaments next month.

The Warriors will host Cahokia Friday night and Roxana and Hazelwood will be here for a double dual Saturday afternoon. All three matches are expected to be close.

The Granite City dual meet winning streak of 37, including 18 this season, is what is top-most on the mind of every Warrior wrestler and each is primed to give his all to see that the string is not broken.

Coach Bill "Red" Schmitt this week was optimistic about his team's chances of surviving the rigors of the weekend. He said the Warriors should win about seven matches against each team and give up about five matches.

"When it is that close, the outcome may well be determined by the number of pins," he explained. Each pin gives the team six points where a decision is worth three points and a superior decision (victory by 10 or more points) is worth four points.

Cahokia has a season record of 11-1, the tie against Belleville East. "All four losses were when the team was plagued by injuries or flu," Schmitt indicated.

He said Cahokia has three undefeated seniors, all of which will be matched against less experienced Warriors. The Cahokia standard-bearer is heavyweight Kevin Bergman who is 6 feet, 4 inches tall, weighs 290 pounds and has won all 19 of his matches this season, all by pins. He will go against Warrior John McMillon who has a season record of 12-1, including four pins.

Another Cahokia star is Bob Campbell at 98 pounds who also is 19-0 this season. Campbell also wrestles at 105 pounds but is expected to be pitted against Warrior Pat MacMillan (98) who has a 19-1 record.

Cahokia's Nook Haywood (145) is the other undefeated wrestler on the team with a 15-0 record. He sometimes wrestles at 153 but probably will meet 145-pound Warrior Ken Nolan tomorrow night.

"They have lots of pins and lots of points, but we are practicing to win, not just to get the pins," Schmitt said.

While the Granite City matmen may still be slightly fatigued from matches the night before, the Warriors face a double-barrel challenge Saturday.

Roxana has lost only once in 13 dual meets this year, to undefeated Belleville by a narrow margin. The Roxana superstar is Rick Biggs at 155 pounds and with an 18-0 record who was a champion in the Granite City Holiday Wrestling Tournament this year. In that tournament he defeated Brian Wilson of Granite City. Wilson will have his opportunity to avenge that loss Saturday.

The other barrel is Hazelwood which has won seven and lost five meets this year. Hazelwood has five outstanding wrestlers, including two former Granite City residents, John Ritchie (126) and Harold Ritchie (132), a sophomore.

John defeated Dennis Ragan in the Hazelwood Quadrangular last year and Harold defeated

Press-Record Sports

Tom Rushing at 138 in the Holiday Tournament this year. Ragan will get another crack at his opponent while Warrior Dan Heath will take his first crack at the sophomore half of the team.

Frank Cusumano at 119 pounds is another feared Hazelwood contender and will be matched against Kerry Johnson Saturday. Although Cusumano has an excellent record, he has been defeated by Ragan.

The Hazelwood 98 pounder, Rick Nardoni will be pitted against MacMillan. Nardoni fought to the fifth round in the Holiday Tournament before he was eliminated by Warrior Phil Lapinski in the 105-pound ranks.

Bruce Gilman is another Hazelwood matman who is expected to be tough here as he defeated Warrior Jack Schooley in the Holiday Tournament on his way to a third-place finish. Schooley is out to avenge the 2-0 loss and will have his chance here Saturday.

Friday's competition against the sophomores, junior varsity and varsity squads of Cahokia will begin with sophomore action at 6:30 p.m. and JV and varsity matches about 7:15 p.m. in the Granite City High School gym.

Saturday's double dual here is restricted to varsity squads. Rounds will begin at 1 p.m. and will continue until completion about 4:30 p.m.

Venice Tops Madison 70-64 Plays Friday for Dupo Title

In an increasingly close game contest at the Dupo tournament last night, the Venice Red Devils, aided by the fourth-quarter shooting of 6-5 center Ron Henry, defeated the Madison Trojans 70-64.

Henry, a leading pointmaker all season for Venice, hit 14 of his 28 points in the final period. Quarter scores favored the Devils 26-14, 35-31 and 52-48.

Coming from behind, the Trojans took a 44-42 lead in the middle of the third quarter but failed to hold it.

"Venice was really an alert ball club," Madison Coach Larry Graham said. "We took several shots but failed to have anyone under the basket and they killed us on rebounding. 34-26. Part of our problem was that this was our third straight game and the boys were naturally a little tired."

The Devils led 30-29 in field goals and 10-6 from the charity line.

Other Venice cagers scoring were Cornelius Wiley 14, Tony Sittion 12 and J. B. Harmon and Ray Mosby, each eight.

Four of the five Trojans hit in double figures, with Jerry Belford and Charles Lucas each getting 18, Kevin Boyd 12, Rudolph Bradley 10 and Anthony Matthews six.

"It was a team effort, and when things got tough for us in the third quarter our players rose to the occasion. If everyone plays that well Friday and keeps their cool, we will win the Dupo tournament again."

The championship game will be played at 8:30 p.m. Friday, with Venice taking on the winner of tonight's Dupo-Carmi game.

The loser of the Carmi-Dupo contest will play at 7 p.m. Friday for third place honors against Madison.

The winners will play in the final four minutes to outpoint Roxana 24-14 for the win.

Madison shot 26 field goals in 78 attempts for 33%, and Roxana went 25 in 65 for 38%. At the charity line Madison hit 15 of 23 for 65%, and Roxana made nine free ones.

The Trojans dominated the backboards 49-31, but made 18 turnovers to Roxana's 12.

"Glaser showed real improvement in the Roxana game," Graham commented. "He has started to hit a little from the outside. Roger has gained his confidence back a little by throwing the ball away and silly fouls," Ohlendorf remarked. "We were not moving like we should, but we won and

"The Dupo gym has different lighting. It is sort of yellow and this threw us off a bit."

Venice continued its winning streak by taking their opener Monday against Columbia 74-65.

Quarter scores favored the Devils 13-12, 34-27 and 52-43.

"We made a lot of silly mistakes throwing the ball away and silly fouls," Ohlendorf remarked. "We were not moving like we should, but we won and Turnovers saw Madison with 13 and Brooklyn with 20; the two teams were almost tied on the boards, Lovejoy gaining a 34-33 edge.

Tony Sittion (31), Anthony Matthews (52), with Ron Henry nearby; Charles Lucas (40), Cornelius Wiley (55) and Ray Mosby (35). Madison plays for third place Friday at 7 p.m. and Venice plays for the championship Friday at 8:30 p.m. at Dupo High School.

Abortions Unlikely at Many Private Hospitals

A 7-2 U.S. Supreme Court decision Monday legalizing abor-tions within the first three months of pregnancy may not be reflected at many private hospitals.

After the first three months, states may regulate abortions in ways reasonably related to the health of the mother. In the final three months of preg-nancy, states may regulate or ban abortions in ways that preserve the mother's life or health.

MR. AND MRS. MICHAEL LICAVOLI. They were married at St. Margaret Mary Roman Catholic Church. The bride is the former Miss Sheila Marie Anderson, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Anderson, 2917

Sheila Marie Anderson, Michael Licavoli Wed

St. Margaret Mary Catholic Church was the scene of the wedding Jan. 20 of Miss Sheila Marie Anderson and Seaman Second Class Michael Dennis Licavoli, U. S. Navy.

Special wedding selections were provided by Sister Theresa and the double-ring ceremony was performed at 2 o'clock by the Rev. Edward Groesche, before an altar banked with blue and white floral bouquets.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Anderson, 2917 Dale Ave. The groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Sampson, reside at 1613 Venice Ave.

The bride was attired in a white chiffon floor-length wedding gown. Long Bishop sleeves were set in the Empire bodice featuring a bib effect edged in tiny lace ruffles with a satin ribbon encircling the high rise waistline.

A wide-gathered ruffle marked the hem of the slightly full skirt. She wore a pearl beaded headband to secure an elbow length veil of imported bridal illusion and she carried a bouquet of blue and white early spring flowers.

Miss Denise Kalert, maid of honor, wore a royal blue velvet formal-length dress designed in an Empire style with long fitted sleeves. White lace trim edged the neckline and cuffs.

Her bouquet was an arrangement of blue carnations.

Dennis Johndrow, a cousin of the groom, served as best man and George Welsh and David Johndrow were the ushers.

Mr. and Mrs. Anderson were hosts at a rehearsal dinner for members of the wedding party on Friday evening.

After the service, guests were received at a reception given by Miss Mary Ann Thornton attending the guest book.

Both young people are graduates of Granite City High School. The newly married Mr. and Mrs. Licavoli will reside in Pensacola, Fla., where the groom is stationed with the U. S. Navy.

Training Early for Operating Room Jobs

St. Elizabeth Hospital has received full approval from the Association of Operating Room Nurses Inc. of its operating room technician program, hospital administrators report.

The program is taught at the local hospital by Dr. Obert M. Lay, chief of staff, and Mrs. Betty Walston R.N., educational coordinator of health occupation.

Five senior high school students are enrolled in the Cooperative Education Extended Campus Program, which is jointly sponsored by St. Elizabeth Hospital and the Granite City Community School District 9. The group receives instruction in anatomy, both in the classroom and in the operating room procedures.

St. Elizabeth Hospital's program in accordance with the standards set forth on the manual "Teaching the Operating Room Technician," is unique in being taught to students at a high school level. According to the Denver Technological Center at Englewood, Colo., this program usually is offered at an academic level beyond the 12th grade.

Familiarizing local young people with the many opportunities available to them in choosing a career in the health occupation field is the primary objective of the training program. Additionally, hospital authorities point out, the students upon completion of their training may elect to remain here and help serve the health needs of their own community.

Extended Campus Program initially started with 10 students training at the hospital. A total of 40 students is expected to be enrolled shortly in various instruction courses offered at St. Elizabeth Hospital. It was learned.

Other areas involving student participation include records, day clinic, occupational therapy and unit clerks, who rotate throughout the hospital in such departments as maintenance, x-ray and housekeeping.

from left, respectively. Students, from left to right, are Frances Welty, Cathy Kutosky, Kathy Lincoln, Rick Dew and Gary Rich. The course, involving practical and theoretical work, usually is taught at academic levels beyond high school.

MRS. WILLIAM CHARLES CAMPBELL, the former Miss Barbara Lynn Hackney, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. and Mrs. Ellis Hackney Sr., 1011 Third St., Venice, who was married at City Temple.

Barbara Hackney Wed In Evening Ceremony

Miss Barbara Lynn Hackney, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Hackney Sr., 1011 Third St., Venice, and William Charles Campbell, son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Campbell, 2312 Miracle Ave., exchanged wedding vows on Jan. 20 at the City Temple, 1917 State St.

The Rev. Eugene Cope officiated at the 6 p.m. double-ring ceremony before an altar decorated with branched candelabra holding lighted tapers, accented with greenery and white satin bows. Bouquets of white, yellow and orange carnations were placed at either side.

Mrs. Edward Collins, organist, played several selections and sang "The First Time." She also accompanied Carl Holm, soloist, in The Lord's Prayer and the bride, who sang "The Two of Us."

Escorted down the white carpeted aisle and given in marriage by her father, the former Miss Hackney wore a gown of pure white satin, enhanced with small covered buttons and defined with Venice lace masked with velvet ribbon. The high neckline and very wide cuffs were created of matching lace and ribbon. Large floral lace appliques were placed at random on the slightly gathered skirt and velvet ribbon edged the hemline.

She wore a profile headpiece to hold in place the full mantilla veil, bordered in lace and velvet ribbon, and she carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations encircled with yellow and orange carnations and camellia foliage.

Matron of honor, Mrs. Patricia Hutchinson, and bridesmaids, Mrs. Connie Wood, Mrs. Linda Hornum, a sister of the groom, Mrs. Scherri Stephens and Miss Sharline Essensper, the bride's niece, dressed alike in chiffon gowns.

The ivory colored bodices, trimmed with orange chiffon ruffles, were designed with high necklines and long full sleeves. Each attendant carried a colonial bouquet of yellow and orange carnations, festooned with variegated ribbons in matching shades.

Mrs. Hackney selected a light powder blue chiffon gown, formal-length, with long sleeves and a round neckline with ruffle trim.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Campbell, was attired in an orange double-knit dress, A-line in style, made with bell-shaped sleeves and a round neckline. Both mothers wore white carnation corsages.

Serving the groom as best man was Dale Clinton. Groomsman and ushers included David Hutchinson, Gary Wood, Howard Harper, James Hornum, Don Bradford and Eddie Stephens.

Candlelighters were Cindy Campbell, a sister of the groom, and Kristy Cope.

Mrs. Patricia Diekmann presided over the guest book at a reception held at the Venice Recreation Center immediately following the service.

The bride is a graduate of Venice High School and is employed at NL Industries, Inc., Granite City. Mr. Campbell is a senior at SIUE. He was graduated from Madison High School in 1969.

The newly married couple will reside in Granite City.

Work Stoppages Decrease in '72

Idleness due to work stoppages in 1972, estimated at 1.4 working days per thousand, was well below the 2.6 working days per thousand recorded in 1971, the U. S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics has announced.

This 1972 figure was more than two working days per thousand below the 11-year peak in 1970 and was the lowest level recorded since 1965.

A significant proportion of this reduction is accounted for by the light collective bargaining calendar in 1972: 2.8 million workers were under contracts expiring or subject to reopening in 1972, compared with 1971's 4.75 million workers.

Approximately 5,100 strikes took place in 1972, the same as in 1971, but the estimated number of workers participating fell significantly, from 3.3 million in 1971 to 1.7 million last year.

In 1972, these workers were away from their jobs for a total of 26.0 million man-days, while in 1971 47.6 million man-days of idleness were reported.

Both the number of workers involved and the number of man-days of idleness were the lowest levels recorded since the mid-1960s. Fewer workers were directly involved in any year since 1965.

The 26 million man-days of idleness were the lowest since 1966, when strikes caused 25.4 million man-days of idleness.

The number of major strikes, those involving 10,000 workers or more, also declined — from 29 in 1971, to 20 in 1972.

Two More Hearings On Beverage Deposit

The Illinois Pollution Control Board has scheduled two additional hearings on the beverage container proposal, R71-24, at Rock Island and Springfield.

These will raise to nine the total number of public hearings to be conducted by the board on the container plan which, if adopted, would require the mandatory deposit of at least a nickel by the consumer when purchasing beer, ale or soft drinks in beverage containers in Illinois.

The new hearings will be held in the Rock Island City Council Chambers Thursday, Feb. 1, at 10 a.m., and the Springfield City Council Chambers Friday, Feb. 2, at 10 a.m.

The board has invited all Illinois mayors, city managers, city councilmen, municipal and governmental officials to testify at the hearings, either in person or in writing.

In a letter sent to over 150 officials throughout the state, the board said, "We encourage and welcome the participation of municipal officials in our deliberations. We value your views (and) urge you to appear and testify in person at the remaining hearings, or if this would be inconvenient, we would be willing to schedule additional hearings where the need or demand exists."

Multiple Sclerosis Awards Presented

Mrs. Dorothy Trower, 2500 E. 24th St., and the Granite City Press-Record were among recipients of appreciation awards presented at a dinner meeting of the St. Louis Area Chapter of the Multiple Sclerosis Foundation in St. Louis during the weekend.

Approximately 300 persons from the Illinois-Missouri metropolitan area attended the annual dinner session which precedes the opening of the fund campaign. The St. Louis Area Chapter embraces 23 Illinois counties and 50 Missouri counties.

Mrs. Trower, chairman of the annual multiple sclerosis fund drive in the Quad-City area, said a door-to-door canvass will be held March 17, 18 and 19 and tag days will be conducted March 30 and 31.

Two Named to Liquor Control Commission

Appointment of Lawrence E. Johnson of Champaign and Michael R. Berz of Kankakee to the Illinois Liquor Control Commission has been announced at Springfield by Gov. Daniel Walker.

The appointments will fill two vacancies on the commission and permit it to function, Gov. Walker said.

Johnson is a defeated candidate for Congress and Berz was defeated in a bid for the state Senate. Both are Democrats.

The governor said both appointees "share my feelings about rigid enforcement of the law, regardless of where the chips may fall."

The annual dinner meeting of the Madison County Soil and Water Conservation District is to be held in the Salem Church Hall in Alhambra on Feb. 13 at 7 p.m.

The speaker will be Robert Holloway, prominent Randolph County grain and dairy farmer. He presently is the county executive director of Monroe County ASCS.

Holloway was graduated from the University of Illinois with honors, majoring in Dairy Science and Agronomy.

In 1972 he received the President's Merit Award from the Soil Conservation Society of America for superior leadership and service in Illinois agriculture.

Howlett Economy Move Cuts Papers, Music

The economy ax is falling in the office of Secretary of State Michael J. Howlett at Springfield on state-purchased newspapers, music and motor vehicles.

"I thought people bought their own newspapers on the way to work," Howlett commented in announcing he has cancelled about 90 daily newspapers purchased by the state for executives. "Let them buy their own newspapers," he added.

He said he also has cut off piped-in entertainment because it "costs too much money," and explained that his office now is in the process of reviewing state provided motor vehicles, totaling 400 in his office.

Larry Richardson, Howlett's chief executive, said the secretary of state is taking away cars assigned to division heads in Chicago and Springfield. This will mean the elimination of from 30 to 40 cars. The search for other economies said continue Richardson said.

June Communication Workshop for Students

Eastern Illinois University's Department of Speech-Communication will host a summer high school speech-communication workshop June 17-30.

Dr. Don B. Morlan, who will direct the workshop, said all high school students in the state are eligible to attend.

Instruction will be offered in the areas of debate, oral interpretation and public speaking. Students participating will work in the areas at different levels of sophistication; depending on each student's background and previous experience in speech and communication activities.

Workshop participants will be housed in university dormitories. Room, board and all instructional costs are included in the workshop fee.

Council Delays Bill to Boost Mayor's Salary

Final passage of an ordinance that would raise the salaries of Granite City's mayor, city treasurer and city clerk was blocked in regular council meeting Monday night by several aldermen who objected to a $6,800 per year increase for the mayor's office.

The ordinance presented to Monday night's council session on a recommendation of the Finance Committee proposed new salaries, effective May 1, of $20,000 per year for the mayor, and $15,000 per year each for the treasurer and clerk.

While the council rejected a motion to suspend the rules and place the ordinance on final passage, the aldermen agreed to place it on first reading for further action in the Feb. 5 council meeting.

At the same time, however, the council approved on final passage a separate ordinance that will increase the annual salary of the city attorney from $12,500 to $13,125 and raise the salary of the assistant city attorney from $9,000 to $9,300 per year.

The only dissenting vote on that motion was cast by Alderman Walter Nomm who said his only objection to the ordinance was that the salary increase for the assistant city attorney was too small.

Alderman Steve Basarich, chairman of the Finance Committee, said that in determining the amounts set out in the ordinance the committee members "had different opinions" on the amount to be set for the mayor, but that he believed the $20,000 was an appropriate figure in view of the salaries paid mayors in neighboring communities.

Alderman Emerald Dawes, a member of the Finance Committee, said he favored a salary of $18,000 for the mayor because of "the fringes" such as car allowances and expenses that also are allowed for that office.

Third member of the Finance Committee is Alderman Paul Schuler, who took no part in the discussion and did not vote on the measure because he is a candidate for mayor in the approaching April 3 city election.

Objections to the $20,000 salary for the mayor also were expressed by Aldermen Roy Poulos and Gerald Parmley. Poulos said that "with that kind of salary we should knock out the extras." Parmley said he believed $20,000 "is way too much. I think Dawes is nearer to the point ($18,300)."

Alderman Sam Whitmer said that he believed the suggested salary was appropriate. "We are paying the chief of police and chief of the fire department slightly more than $15,000 a year and they are responsible only for their own departments. The mayor is responsible for all departments," Whitmer said.

Also supporting the $20,000 figure were Aldermen Clyde Boyd and William Dulles. Boyd remarked that "the way I see things today, there is nothing wrong with the $20,000 salary."

Dallas commented: "I wouldn't take the job for much more than that. It should have been raised to $20,000 four years ago."

Whitmer noted that "this matter should be settled now. This is a salary for the office, whoever may hold it after the election, and does not involve individuals."

Mayor Donald Partney now receives a salary of $12,200 per year, set in 1969, plus a $50 monthly car allowance, a maximum of $1,300 in "accountable" expenses and $1,000 per year for serving as liquor control commissioner.

City Treasurer Paul Rutledge and City Clerk Robert Stevens now receive $11,400 annually, also set by ordinance in 1969.

On a roll call vote, the motion to suspend the rules for final passage was defeated 7 to 3, with three council members absent and Schuler abstaining. A minimum of ten favorable votes is required to suspend the rules and place an ordinance on final passage.

Voting against the measure were Aldermen Parmley, Rutledge and Dawes. Favoring the bill were Aldermen Boyd, Whitmer, Basarich, Nomm, Boker, Greenwald and Dallas. Those absent were Aldermen R. E. Robertson, Claude Green and Everett Morlen.

STRUCK IN TAVERN

Grover King, 46, of Alton, reported at 5:35 p.m. Tuesday that an assailant struck him on the head and below the left eye while he was seated at Liz's Tavern, 20th and Park streets. He was taken by police to St. Elizabeth Hospital, where he refused treatment and was released.

Physical Fitness GC Rotary Topic

Kent Dunn, physical director of the YMCA, and Mrs. Joyce Mitchell, women's fitness director for the Y, presented a joint program before the Granite City Rotary Club Tuesday during its luncheon meeting at the Y.

Dunn opened the program by explaining how the YMCA was started as a social concern project, noting that fitness also is a social concern. He told the group that to test fitness in the beginning, a person should try stepping up and down on a step for two minutes, rest for two minutes and then check the pulse beat for normalcy.

In his talk, Dunn, gave a few illustrations for removing excess weight. He said that 5,714 push-ups would take off one and a half pounds of body weight. With a normal diet a person should exercise 3 hours a day to lose weight.

The local Y director also gave tips on relaxation prior to sleep. He said that even in an office a person can relax in certain ways to help remove tension. Mrs. Mitchell demonstrated exercises to remove tension to the shoulder and neck area and spoke on ways to determine what exercises were too strenuous. She explained a specific type of exercise to help burn up fat.

To be physically fit, the two speakers agreed, a person first should count calories and take part in a daily fitness program to lose weight at a safe rate of not more than two pounds a week.

The two guest speakers talked about "Fitness Finders," a two-day training session to be held in St. Louis, which they will attend to learn a fun type of program approved for physical fitness, diet and weight control.

Some public movements could be classified as lost motion.

Luncheon Party For Lydia Circle

Mrs. Virgie Barks, chairman of the Lydia Circle of Nameo United Methodist Church, presided at a luncheon meeting of the group held in the home of Mrs. Mildred Hess, 14 Del Rio Ave.

The event was combined with a belated Christmas party, cancelled in December due to inclement weather. Table decorations were in keeping with the holidays, and religious music was played during the luncheon. A gift exchange also took place.

Plans were completed for circle members to sell "all-occasion" cards as a fundraising project under the direction of co-chairmen, Mrs. Lucille Webb and Mrs. Virgie Barks. Mrs. Hess was elected to serve as treasurer for 1973. Mrs. Dorothy Wallace presented the devotion taken from Psalm 34 and a lesson, entitled "Reverence Worship and Response."

Others present were Mesdames Verma Willtrout, Mary Bailey, Jesse Sayers, Pauline Mahon, Vivian Giuka, Lucille Webb and Gladys Russell.

Deadline Jan. 31 For Homestead Tax Cut Forms

Elderly homeowners 65 years of age or more who have not yet filed applications for a $1,500 "homestead exemption" on their real estate property through their local township assessor's office, must file their applications by Jan. 31, 1973, to do so, the office of Von Dee Cruise, Granite City Township assessor, pointed out today.

At least several hundred persons eligible for the exemption and who filed for the tax cut last year have failed to renew their applications for the 1973 exemption, the assessor's office said.

Last year a total of 1,532 applications for homestead exemptions was filed with the assessor's office. Thus far this month only 1,167 applications have been filed, including those by a number of new applicants, the office reported.

This means that a number of senior citizens who sought the exemption for the 1972 year have failed to file new forms for 1973. Applications for homestead exemptions must be renewed from year to year.

The Jan. 31 deadline for filing homestead exemption applications in Granite City Township also applies to elderly homeowners of Venice, Nameoki and Chouteau Townships, who must file their applications with their respective township assessors.

Those eligible for the exemptions are persons who were at least 65 years of age on Jan. 1 this year, and who own the home in which they live.

The homestead exemptions are provided under state statutes effective since 1970.

'Pal Day' Is Planned At YMCA Saturday

The Tri City Area YMCA will hold a "pal day" Saturday, Jan. 27, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. for boys and girls. There will be swimming, cartoons, playing of games and presentation of free memberships for the rest of the school year.

The day will cost 50 cents for members, 75 cents for non-members, and 75 cents combined for a member and a friend.

Lunch will include a hot dog, drink and potato chips for 25 cents, or the individual may bring his own lunch with him on a "Pal day" was planned as an observance of National YMCA Week.

200 Attend Eagles Installation, Initiation

The installation of Eagles district officials and induction of 15 candidates into Eagles Aerie 1126 of Granite City highlighted a weekend of social activities at the Eagle's Home, 2558 Madison Ave. More than 200 Eagles from area lodges attended the two-day convocation.

Special guests of the local lodge were Dominic Pecenti of Cicero, president of the Illinois Fraternal Order of Eagles, his wife, Mrs. Pecenti, and other state and district officers.

Among the visitors greeting the state president and his entourage were representatives from Eagles' lodges in Alton, Wood River, Belleville, East St. Louis, Collinsville and Edwardsville. The dignitaries were introduced by George Mathenia, Aerie 1126 president.

An "old-fashioned" potluck supper climaxed the first day of Pecenti's official visit here. The evening was spent socially, with entertainment furnished by the Eagles Auxiliary Kitchen Band.

The following day, the local state and district officers, and more than 200 members and guests and an evening of dancing followed.

Carl Buehler of Granite City and Felix Yost of Alton served as installing officers for the District 7 officials.

Heading the district's new corps are Howard Eggle of Alton, president; Jess Carbaugh of Wood River, vice-president; and Robert Stanton of Granite City, conductor. Charles Achors of Madison is the retiring district president.

Puhse, Richard Mueller, Charles Leumann, Ernest Justice, Richard Fanning, O'Neal Smith, LeRoy Schaeffer, Robert Richert and David Mueller.

A number of fund-raising activities to benefit several charitable enterprises of the Eagles organization was announced by Mathenia. A ham and bean dinner is scheduled Feb. 3 and the auxiliary unit will sponsor a "Valentine's Day" dance Feb. 10, the lodge officer said.

He reported that members and their guests also are invited to attend a series of Friday night dinners at which entertainment will be provided by Ruth Evans at the piano.

Mathenia explained that all proceeds derived from the benefit events will be distributed to the Jimmy Durante Cripples' Children's Fund, the Max Baer Heart Fund, Sequin School for the Handicapped, the Eagles Cancer, Golden Age and other funds and to other civic groups supported by the Eagles organization.

Several hundred visitors are expected to attend the Southern Illinois zone rally of Eagle lodges, scheduled to take place in Granite City the last week of April, the local lodge official announced. Plans for the event currently are being completed, he noted.

Leaf-Burning, Other Problems Hang Heavy Over EPA Head

Copley News Service

Springfield—The smoke from autumn bonfires that were never in last fall apparently hangs over the state Environmental Protection Agency offices in Springfield.

Though the agency has a key role in pollution case decisions involving mammoth industries, and in the dispersal of multimillions of dollars for sewage works, it is that controversial and much-resented ban on leaf-burning that keeps popping up in conversations with the EPA's new director, Mary Lee Leahy.

For example: "In state government, the only reason for existence is to serve the people of the state of Illinois and that means you have to listen to people. Like the leaf-burning thing... that obviously drew a lot of criticism..."

Or: "The agency has got to be flexible enough to realize that different areas might need to be treated in a different manner... like the ban on leaf-burning..."

Or: "The agency has limited resources and limited manpower. It's going to be essential we consider this when setting policies, so they can be carried out with the resources we have. We don't want to have a situation like prohibition, where laws are on the books and everybody openly violates them."

"I'm not saying that the leaf-burning ban, for instance, isn't enforceable—our studies showed that most people complied. They did it grudgingly, but they complied. But every proposed regulation should be investigated for enforcement ability before it's adopted."

City Calls for Installation of 7 Fire Hydrants

An ordinance calling for installation of fire hydrants at seven locations was approved by the Granite City Council Monday night.

The bill provides for installation of the new fire hydrants by the East St. Louis & Interurban Water Co. under terms of the company's franchise agreement with the city.

The new hydrant locations were designated at Willow Avenue and Emert Street, Briarcliff Drive and Briarhaven Drive, 43 Terrace Lane, 81 Oak Lawn, 1600 Clark Avenue and Terrace Lane, Venice Avenue and Route 203, and on Parkway Drive 839 feet east of Maryville Road.

In other action, the council referred to its Negotiating Committee a notice from Arthur Griffin, business manager of Laborers Local 397, that the union wishes to respect the city and employees who are members of the union.

Appointment of Dennis R. Crable as assistant humane officer by Mayor Donald Partney was confirmed by the council. Crable will be paid by the Madison County Emergency Employment Program.

The city payroll for the last half of January, totaling $78,290, was approved, although payments of additional salary for Assistant Fire Chief Charles Hileman, for serving in the rank of chief, was questioned and separated from the original payroll list.

Sick leave pay for the first half of January, totaling $2,344 was approved without comment.

Sick leave payments for the city's four major departments included $703 for the sewage treatment department, $369 for the police department, $411 for the street department and $202 for the fire department. Payment of vouchers and claims totaling $50,360 in the general fund were approved, as were vouchers for $2,711 in the sewage treatment department and $515 in the sewer extension fund.

An ordinance establishing a 15-minute parking limit on Wilson Avenue at Wilson school, between Edgewood Avenue to National Avenue, was approved.

Governor Reviewing Budgets for Agencies

Gov. Daniel Walker said during the weekend, "I've never said I was going to cut $500 million from the budget." He had been quoted during the 1972 campaign as saying that millions of wasted dollars were available to shift to high priorities, including education and mental health.

He told reporters at a week-end press conference that the hundreds of millions of dollars he referred to included the cost of projects over a period of several years, such as the Chicago Crosstown Expressway which he opposes.

Gov. Walker said he is continuing to review agencies' requests prior to submission of the 1973-74 state budget in early March.

She adds that she feels the amendments which permitted more leaf burning in more areas were "very proper," but said she "couldn't say" at this time if the EPA will go before the Pollution Control Board to advocate even more liberalization of the much-criticized prohibition.

A lawyer who also taught law courses in wills and trusts, constitutional law and local government relationships before she was named to succeed Bill Blaser as head of the EPA, Mrs. Leahy says that when Gov. Dan Walker asked her to take over the post, "We both knew what a critical spot it is... But I thought it might also be the most exciting spot to be."

She doesn't doubt that there are problems much bigger than a heap of leaves waiting—problems such as a lack of public understanding about what the agency actually does, for instance, and problems resulting from the failure of federal sources to release money needed for required sewer programs.

The EPA is, by definition, the agency charged with enforcing regulations, as well as with investigating, presenting evidence and testimony, recommending standards or exceptions, and filing cases through the attorney general's office if necessary in violation cases.

"But what are we going to do when we find sanitary districts which are not meeting the regulations, who exhausted both their borrowing power and their ability to raise any more revenues and who can't get promised federal money because it isn't released? This is going to be a very difficult question for the future—but it will finally be the Pollution Control Board's, not the EPA's."

And that brings her to the other big problem, of what the agency can do to clarify misunderstandings about its role.

"I find that everybody gets mad about rulings and blames the EPA—like the leaf-burning, for instance. That decision was made by the Pollution Control Board, but everybody refers to the 'EPA ban on burning leaves.' Or like the proposed idea of requiring deposits on beverage cans and bottles... we didn't even suggest that."

Attainment of Vietnam Peace Fulfills Americans' Fondlest Hopes

"Blessed are the peacemakers." Quad-Cityans and Americans' hearts are full and they are breathing sighs of relief and satisfaction, thanks to the announcement by President Nixon on Tuesday evening that a Vietnam peace agreement will be signed Saturday and that a cease-fire will take effect at 6 p.m. that day.

All join with the President in his hope that "this agreement will contribute to the preservation of lasting peace in Indochina and Southeast Asia and to the prospects of peace in the world."

There is a deeply-felt joy that by March 28 "all American-held prisoners throughout Indochina will be released, all American forces will be withdrawn from South Vietnam and there will be the fullest possible accounting for all those who are missing in action."

The pact ending this country's more than a decade of participation in the Vietnam war asserts that "the people of South Vietnam have been guaranteed the right to determine their own future without outside interference." It helps assure stability, the Communists invaders from Hanoi are to be aided in restoring bombed facilities in the northern half of long-divided Vietnam.

There also has been a call by the President to "major powers" to exercise mutual restraint.

As was pointed out in the nationwide broadcast, the war now ending has been "long and difficult"—and the role played by two and a half million young Americans was "one of the most selfless enterprises in the history of nations."

Though there are few consolations from such a bitter, bloody, unpopular conflict, it is possible to note that the United States "did not settle for a peace that would have betrayed our allies, that would have abandoned our prisoners of war, or that would have ended the war for us but continued the war for the 50 million people of Indochina."

Mr. Nixon was right in making special mention of the loved ones of those who are missing in action or prisoners of war, a group including Mrs. Sandy North Inner of Granite City. As he said, "What others called on us to settle on any terms, you (POW, MIA families) had the courage to stand for the right kind of peace, so that those who died and those who suffered would not have died and suffered in vain—and so that where this generation knew war, the next generation could know peace."

Mr. Nixon has cruelly fooled itself throughout history in believing that it was involved in "war to end wars." But the prayer and hope that such an uncivilized method of settling differences need never again be utilized does shine brightly again in January 1973.

His hope is bolstered by awareness that — with increasingly deadly weaponry, growing ability to communicate, and expanding power to project greater abundance for all people—the world may be reaching a point where peacemakers' voices can prevail, where peace with honor and freedom can become a reality everywhere.

36th President Achieved Unprecedented Action on Domestic Issues

It is sadly ironic that a Vietnam war peace settlement remained elusive throughout the lifetime of President Lyndon B. Johnson, who died of a sudden heart attack Monday afternoon, the day preceding announcement of an agreement. It was during his 1963-69 occupancy of the White House that the principal escalation in fighting occurred.

Just as the war was to burden his four years of retirement, it also caused loss of much of the public support for his Presidency, which otherwise had many hallmarks of greatness.

His overwhelming election in 1964, which included campaigning in this metropolitan region's Illinois area, will remain a bright pinnacle, as will the legislative milestones he achieved both as Senate majority leader and as President.

The 36th President was mainly responsible for medicare, anti-poverty, manpower, retraining, urban rehabilitation, pollution abatement, urban mass transit and wilderness preservation programs as well as massive aid in education, health, housing, Social Security and civil rights laws.

His "Great Society" plans wrought major changes in American life. Some newly all of the initiatives remain authorized and may have added impact in future years.

LBJ will live on in memory and history as a unique leader with many human failings but with an unprecedented capacity to achieve legislative-executive forward momentum on America's domestic needs and wishes.

The FORUM

NEVER AGAIN LAUNCH DESTRUCTIVE CRUSADE

To the Editor:
As an American citizen with a conscience, I wish to speak out against our President's Christmas crusade of terror and mass murder. His unprovoked bombing campaign over North Vietnam pushed our country of protest throughout the world.

cause of its lack of protest — the U.S.A. Could it be possible that the people of America should accept a policy of barbaric destruction?

Or is it that apathy reigns supreme? Is it that people simply are not concerned with massive loss of life—the near annihilation of an entire culture—as long as it does not threaten their own warm security?

Silence is often mistaken for concurrence. If one does not agree with senseless death and destruction, one should let his feelings be known.

It is only through public protest that President Nixon may be persuaded to never again begin such a tragic slaughter, with which many will always associate Christmas, 1972. "Do unto others as you would have others do unto you."

Just as we respect the right of each nation to determine its own future, we also recognize the responsibility of each nation to secure its own future.

Just as America's role is indispensable in preserving the peace, so is each nation's role indispensable in preserving its own peace.

Together with the rest of the world, let us resolve to move forward from the beginnings we have made.

Let us continue to bring down the walls of hostility which have divided the world, and to build in their place bridges of understanding—so that despite profound differences between systems of government, the people of the world can be friends.

Let us build a structure of peace in the world in which the weak are as safe as the strong, in which each respects the right of the other to live by a different system—in which those who would influence others will do so by the strength of their ideas, not by the force of their arms.

Let us accept that high responsibility not as a burden, but gladly—gladly because the chance to build such a peace is the noblest endeavor a people can engage in.

Gladly also because—only if we act greatly in meeting our responsibilities abroad—will we remain a great nation. And only if we remain a great nation will we act greatly in meeting our challenges at home.

We have the chance today to do more than ever before to make life better in America—to ensure better education, better health, better housing, better transportation, a cleaner environment—to restore respect for law, to make our communities more livable—to ensure the God-given right of every American to full and equal opportunity.

Pres. Nixon—'Government Must Learn to Take Less From People So People Can Do More for Themselves'

Following is the text of President Richard M. Nixon's second inaugural address:

When we met here four years ago, America was bleak in spirit, depressed by the prospect of seemingly endless war abroad and of destructive conflict at home.

As we meet here today, we stand on the threshold of a new era of peace in the world. The central question before us is: How shall we use that peace?

Let us resolve that this era we are about to enter will not be what other past periods have been: a time of retreat and isolation that leads to stagnation at home and invites new dangers abroad.

Let us resolve that this will be a time of great responsibilities greatly borne, in which we renew the spirit and the promise of America for the start of our third century as a nation.

This past year saw far-reaching results from our new policies for peace. By continuing to revitalize our traditional friendships, and by our missions to Peking and Moscow, we were able to establish the base for a new and more durable pattern of relationships among the nations of the world.

Because of America's bold initiatives, 1972 will be long remembered as the year of the greatest progress since World War II toward a lasting peace in the world.

The peace we seek in the world is not a fragile, untested interlude between wars, but a peace which can endure for generations to come.

It is important that we understand both the necessity and the limitations of America's role in maintaining that peace.

Unless we in America reserve the peace, there will be no peace. Unless we in America work to preserve freedom, there will be no freedom.

But let us clearly understand the new nature of America's role, as a result of the new policies we have adopted over the past four years.

We shall respect our treaty commitments. We shall support vigorously the principle that no country has the right to impose its will on others by force.

We shall continue, in this era of negotiation, to work for the limitation of nuclear arms, and to reduce the danger of confrontation between the great powers.

We shall do our share in defending peace and freedom in the world. But we shall expect others to do their share.

The time has passed when America will make every other nation's conflict our own, or make every other nation's future our responsibility, or presume to tell the people of other nations how to manage their own affairs.

Just as we respect the right of each nation to determine its own future, we also recognize the responsibility of each nation to secure its own future.

Just as America's role is indispensable in preserving the peace, so is each nation's role indispensable in preserving its own peace.

Together with the rest of the world, let us resolve to move forward from the beginnings we have made.

Let us continue to bring down the walls of hostility which have divided the world, and to build in their place bridges of understanding—so that despite profound differences between systems of government, the people of the world can be friends.

Let us build a structure of peace in the world in which the weak are as safe as the strong, in which each respects the right of the other to live by a different system—in which those who would influence others will do so by the strength of their ideas, not by the force of their arms.

Let us accept that high responsibility not as a burden, but gladly—gladly because the chance to build such a peace is the noblest endeavor a people can engage in.

Gladly also because—only if we act greatly in meeting our responsibilities abroad—will we remain a great nation. And only if we remain a great nation will we act greatly in meeting our challenges at home.

We have the chance today to do more than ever before to make life better in America—to ensure better education, better health, better housing, better transportation, a cleaner environment—to restore respect for law, to make our communities more livable—to ensure the God-given right of every American to full and equal opportunity.

Because the range of our needs is so great—because the range of our opportunities is so great—let us be bold in our determination to meet these needs in new ways.

As building a structure of peace abroad has required turning away from old policies that failed, so building a new era of progress at home requires turning away from old policies that failed.

About the shift from old policies to new has not been a retreat from our responsibilities, but a better way to progress.

At home, the shift from old policies to new will not be a retreat from our responsibilities, but a better way to progress.

Our children have been taught to be ashamed of their country, ashamed of their parents, ashamed of America's record at home and of its role in the world.

At every turn, we have been told by those who find everything wrong with America and very little right with it.

Let us be confident that their will not be the judgment of history on these remarkable times in which we are privileged to live.

America's record in this century has been unparalleled in the world's history for its responsibility, for its generosity, for its creativity and for its progress.

Let us go forward from here confident in our faith, strong in our faith in one another, sustained by our faith in God who created us and is striving always to serve His purposes.

Let us pledge together to make these next four years the best four years in America's history, so that on its 200th birthday America will be as young and as vital as when it began, and as bright a beacon of hope to the world.

Let us go forward from here confident in our faith, strong in our faith in one another, sustained by our faith in God who created us and is striving always to serve His purposes.

Let us go forward from here confident in our faith, strong in our faith in one another, sustained by our faith in God who created us and is striving always to serve His purposes.

Health Food Fans Join Little Miss Muffet in Eating Curds and Whey

Little Miss Muffet, eating her curds and whey, would have lots of company around her. Her dish of curds and whey would be quite appealing to the fast-growing number of Americans who are making natural and organic foods part of their everyday diets.

Interest in the foods of Grandmother's day has skyrocketed in the last two years, according to a new study by the Northwestern National Life Insurance Co.

Approximately 3,500 health food stores throughout the country cater to the growing taste for organic foods, and more are being opened all the time. Other stores have expanded their offerings.

Depth of interest ranges from those who reject all commercial, processed food—in favor of such things as wheat germ, dehydrated yeast and a brewer's yeast—to average home-makers concerned about nutritive qualities of processed and refined foods.

Organic, health and natural foods are not necessarily the same thing, although the terms are often used interchangeably.

The phrase "natural food" refers primarily to differences in preparing the same foods. Mom's homemade soup is natural; the dehydrated variety is not. Fresh fruit is natural, while canned, sweetened varieties are not.

"Health foods" include all kinds of foods which, in a general way, are considered to be nutritious, that some processed foods. Whole grains, dried beans and fresh liver, for example, are health foods.

Health foods and natural foods have been around for a long time and have been regularly sold in supermarkets. The big boom is in organically grown foods.

"Organic foods" are grown in soil treated with organic fertilizers and not with artificial fertilizers and pesticides.

Purchases of organic foods are averaging about four times more in 1972. A leading magazine predicts that, by 1975, organic foods will account for 40% of all food purchased.

When shopping is necessary when buying organic and health foods. Prices for organically grown foods run 30% to 50% above their non-organic counterparts.

Unfortunately, there is no way yet for the consumer to be positive that organically grown foods are actually grown and processed using organic methods. In an effort to capitalize on the booming market for organic foods, ordinary foods in the world what the world has not had before—a structure of peace that can last, not merely for our time, but through the generations.

We are embarking here today on an era that presents challenges as great as those any nation, or any generation, has ever faced.

We shall answer to God, to history, and to our conscience for the way in which we use these years.

As I stand in this place, so have I stood in many places, and I think of others who have stood here before me.

I think of the dreams they have had, and I think of how each recognized that he needed help far beyond himself in order to make those dreams come true.

Today I ask you prayers that in the years ahead I may see God's light in making decisions that are right for America.

And I pray for your help so that together we may be worthy of our challenges.

Let us pledge together to make these next four years the best four years in America's history, so that on its 200th birthday America will be as young and as vital as when it began, and as bright a beacon of hope to the world.

Let us go forward from here confident in our faith, strong in our faith in one another, sustained by our faith in God who created us and is striving always to serve His purposes.

Let us go forward from here confident in our faith, strong in our faith in one another, sustained by our faith in God who created us and is striving always to serve His purposes.

are sometimes sold as organic. One way to get organic foods is to grow your own. Many of the young Americans returning to rural lifestyles are doing just that.

Also, record numbers of Americans are now growing fruits and vegetables at home. Consumer magazines are full of articles on how to grow your own sprouts, on organic gardening and on cooking the natural way.

Not since the victory gardens of World War II has there been such interest in vegetable gardening. Seed companies report business at an all-time high. "Organic Gardening and Farming" magazine has over 700,000 subscribers.

Health food stores offer a wide variety of products, including milk and whole grains, cereals, seeds, nuts, dried fruits, sprouts, herbs, teas, preserves, fruit and vegetable juices, seaweed, fresh fruits and vegetables, nut butters, yogurt and brewer's yeast.

Many now include fresh bread baked from organic grains, baking mixes, fertile eggs, organically grown meats, natural cheeses and other dairy products.

Some stores provide mail-order service for out-of-town customers. Dozens of vitamin, mineral and protein supplements, which come in powdered, tablet or liquid form, are available.

Health food stores also are apt to carry electric juicers and home yogurt makers. Most carry books and magazines on nutrition and organic delicacies, many written by qualified nutritionists and some by unreliable food faddists.

Two products which turn off organic-natural food fans are bleached white flour and refined sugar. With both products, almost all nutrients are removed in processing, although some are replaced with flour or breads are fortified.

The natural way is to use whole grain, coarse ground or unbleached flour in baking—and molasses and honey for sweetening.

One Midwest flour miller reports that sales of an unbleached flour—which it has never promoted—jumped 35% in 1971.

Several leading mills are promoting whole wheat, rye, graham and unbleached white flours by offering recipe books with the products.

The trend toward organic is not limited to foodstuffs. Commercially now selling the praises of organic shampoos, toothpastes and cosmetics.

Biodegradable soaps and cleaning compounds made with organic ingredients also are available. One magazine runs recipes for preparing "natural" cosmetics at home.

Concerns in recent years about the possible harmful effect of pesticides and food additives have contributed to the growth of interest in organic foods.

For some people, the switch to organic fruits and vegetables is simply that they taste better. Whether organic products are significantly different from other foods to justify their higher prices is still hotly debated.

But whatever their reasons, more and more people are "going organic."

Ill. Wesleyan Drops $25 Application Fee

Illinois Wesleyan University has dropped its $25 application fee, director of admission James Ruoti announced today. The new policy becomes effective immediately.

The policy will permit a prospective student to apply for admission and receive a financial aid proposal from the university prior to paying any fees, Ruoti said.

"Two of the problems of the prospective college student today are to find out if he meets the academic requirements of a college and then to find out if the school will provide him with a satisfactory program of financial aid," said Ruoti.

"Wesleyan's new policy simplifies the procedure." Most institutions require a non-refundable application fee prior to providing the financial aid information, Ruoti said.

During 1972, the East St. Louis and Interurban Water Company has installed 10,750 feet of water main to replace facilities that were no longer adequate. In addition to the improved general service, another positive example is the additional flow available from the fire hydrant at 29th Street and State Street. The flow at this hydrant increased from 540 gallons per minute to 820 G.P.M.

Improvements like this help to keep your fire insurance premiums at a lower rate.

Partly because there is a great need for professionally trained persons in her native Tanzania, and partly because she was awarded a scholarship at Valparaiso (Ind.) University, Ester Baintani is enrolled in the graduate program in geography at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Miss Baintani, 41, is from Bukoba, Tanzania is located on the Southeast coast of Africa. When she graduated from Valparaiso, she said, "I wanted to continue going to school in this country, so I applied at SIUE." She began her studies this quarter. She is employed as a graduate research assistant in the SIUE Research Industrial Studies project.

Before coming to the U.S., Miss Baintani was a school teacher in Tanzania. She graduated from the Mtwapa Teacher Training College.

When she completes her graduate degree, she plans to return to Tanzania.

Prof. Taylor Authors Book on Shakespeare

Prof. Marion Taylor of the English department of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville is the author of a book on Shakespeare's "A Midsummer Night's Dream" to be published this spring by Editions Rodopi of Amsterdam.

The 250-page book is entitled "Bottom, Thou Art Translated: Political Allegory in 'A Midsummer Night's Dream' and Related Literature."

According to Mrs. Taylor, "A Midsummer Night's Dream" is filled with political allegory and is not just a dreamy play with nonsensical characters.

"For instance," Mrs. Taylor says, "no scholar has ever turned to the Duke of Alencon and his associates during the reign of Queen Elizabeth to find parallels between the Duke and Bottom the Weaver in Shakespeare's play."

Mrs. Taylor has written extensively on Shakespeare for professional journals. A State University of Iowa Ph.D., she joined the SIUE faculty in 1953 after several years of teaching and travel.

St. Teresa Named to State School Network

St. Teresa Academy of East St. Louis has been selected as one of 15 schools to participate in the Illinois Network for School Development.

The academy was visited recently by George Pinar of the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction at Springfield who is the academy's direct link with the OSPI for the program. He interviewed members of the STA staff, students, and some parents.

As part of the Illinois Network for School Development, St. Teresa will be a demonstration center in the use of new teaching methods. Illinois school administrators and teachers will be sent to the demonstration centers for the study of innovative techniques used.

This experimental plan is part of the "Action Goals for the '70's," a program to promote new approaches to education in the state's elementary and secondary schools.

The first school that has requested to visit St. Teresa Academy through the network is Siena High School, Chicago, a school of 700 students. Four of the faculty will make the visitation on Jan. 30.

Patriotic Shrines Being Given to Area Schools

"Rediscover America" is the theme of an inspirational program announced today by Ernest A. Karandjoff, president of Granite City Trust and Savings Bank. It is intended to focus attention on our great American heritage for the youth of the area.

A Landmark of Freedom Shrine, a permanent collection of engraved plaques, is to be established in each school of Granite City, Madison and Venice in cooperation with local school boards.

Each shrine will consist of a series of limited edition engraved bronze plates mounted on rich grained walnut—one to be presented annually for permanent display in the public area of each school. The first Freedom Landmark to be featured will be the two Jima Flag-raising Memorial in Washington, D.C.

Karandjoff will present the 1972 selection to inaugurate the shrines at the January meetings of the school boards. In an interview he said: "Continuation of America as we have known it will be reflected in how well our youth are educated to know its values, background—our heritage. Therefore, the emphasis of the 'Rediscover America' program will be on faithfully reproducing and displaying the best inspirational material from America's history. Its most famous and important freedom shrines."

In addition to the Freedom Shrine, the official bank calendar has also been designed to supplement the message. Created by a St. Louis calendar publishing firm, it incorporates on the finest art paper stock a photograph reproduction of the original pencil sketch by St. Louis artist Al Repple.

The sketch of the two Jima Memorial is part of the Landmark of Freedom calendar collection which has twice recently won national recognition from the Freedom Foundation of Valley Forge—having received the George Washington Honor Medal Award as the outstanding patriotic calendar for achievement in bringing about a better understanding of the American way of life.

The two Jima Flag raising was chosen for the first selection because of the tradition which Granite City Trust has followed in past years—that of featuring the Star-spangled Banner on its calendar.

Future selections will feature other national memorials so that collection of America's most important freedom shrines will be permanently preserved and displayed.

The commemorative caption accompanying the sketch reads: "The United States Marine Corps War Memorial at Arlington, Va., depicting the historic two Jima Flag raising, has become one of the major symbols of our free land. The two Jima campaign is considered one of the most significant and costly battles of World War II. Sculptor, Felix W. deWeldon, based the memorial on the Joe Rosenthal action photos of six Marines raising the American flag atop Mount Suribachi on Feb. 23, 1945, to signify the courage and valor of the American fighting forces. Dedicated Nov. 19, 1954, it carries an inscription with all names of principal Marine engagements since 1775."

Carly Simon Is Writing Happy Love Songs Now

By JUDY HUGG
Copley News Service

It was less than two years ago that Carly Simon made her first solo album. And it was that first album that contained her first hit single, "That's the Way I've Heard It Should Be," on Elektra.

In the interim, Carly also picked up a Grammy for the Best New Artist of 1971, based on her second album, "Anticipation." She became a leading attraction on the concert circuit with her arresting stage presence and dynamic abilities with her own songs and occasionally with songs of other writers.

Miss Simon kept writing and growing as a writer and the results can be heard on her third LP, "No Secrets," which presents Carly with all new material and some new ways of performing. For the first time in her recording career, Carly has made an album that comes close to approximating the magnetism, energy and joy that can be felt in her live performances.

While there is still a fair share of the ballads and love songs that have helped make her famous, there are also a few numbers that are more on the rocking side, including "You So Vivid," which is riding high on all national charts.

"No Secrets" was made in London at Trident Studios and Air Recording, with producer Richard Perry, who has done a splendid job for Harry Nilsson, Barbra Streisand, Fanny and Hilis Fitzgerald.

Recently Carly commented that for the first time in her life, she was writing happy love songs, that give a looseness and good feeling throughout the entire album.

Friends working with Miss Simon on the album include Klaus Voorman, Bobby Keys, James Taylor, lead guitarist Jimmy Ryan, the familiar drums of Andy Newman, Paul and Linda McCartney, Bonnie Bramlett and Nicky Hopkins.

With this impressive group backing up Carly, it's easy to see why the album flew to the top and is expected to stay there for many months to come.

Some of the more powerful cuts include "His Friends Are More Than Fond of Robin," "The Carter Family," "We Have No Secrets," "Embrace Me You Child," and "When You Close Your Eyes." Truly a super package.

"The Divine Miss M is here! And it's a real joy to find an artist of the caliber of Betty Midler, whose new Atlantic LP 'The Divine Miss M' has just been released.

A young woman with an incredible talent, a voice that soars throatily across a dizzying collection of material that spans decades. From Bobby Freeman's "Do You Want to Dance?" to Buzzy Ingham's "Friends" through classics like "Chapel of Love," "Superstar," "Bella Dawn" and "Doogie Woogie Bugle Boy," Betty takes each song and creates an individual mood-masterpiece with every one.

Foreign Study Seminar Planned by Eastern

Eastern Illinois University's Department of English will co-sponsor "The Bible and Greek Drama," a foreign study seminar in Israel, Greece and Turkey June 25-July 29.

The program is open to presently and previously enrolled Eastern and Northern Illinois University students, and to other persons eligible for admission to either university.

The following credits from Eastern may be earned: English 275—Literature of the Old Testament; English 325—Greek Drama; four quarter hours each for undergraduates. Also, English 589—Independent study; four or eight quarter hours for graduate students.

One of the seminar directors will be Evelyn Haught, an assistant professor of English at Eastern, who has taught the Bible for many years. Students will read Homer, Greek drama, selected books of the Old and New Testament and related secondary material.

The island of Patmos has been selected for resident study because of its connection with the last book of the New Testament, its proximity to the geographical area of St. Paul, and the high quality of the monastery library.

Cost of the five weeks is about $1,300, depending upon air fare (round trip Chicago-Tel Aviv) plus tuition costs. Tuition charges at Eastern will be $16 per quarter hour.

Application blanks may be obtained by contacting George Hackler, Extension Office, Eastern Illinois University, Charleston, Ill. 61920.

Elder Robert L. Simpson, Salt Lake City, Utah, assistant to the Council of the Twelve of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, will be the speaker at the 23rd annual Boy Scout Appreciation Dinner of the Cahokia Mound Council to be held at the Trinity Lutheran School in Edwardsville at 6:30 p.m. Feb. 8.

Simpson served in Scouting as a Scout in Santa Monica, Calif., while in his teens and has been involved in Scouting since.
While serving as mission president for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints in New Zealand, he was the Church's New Zealand Coordinator for Scouting.

It was during this period that his son Steven achieved the rank of Queen Scout which is the British equivalent of Eagle. His other son, Robert M., is an Eagle Scout.
In Scouting Simpson has served as a commissioner and institutional representative in the Los Angeles area. He also has served on the National Cub Scout Committee, National Volunteer Training Committee, National Health and Safety Committee and the National Court of Honor Committee.

He is a member of the Executive Committee of the Boy Scouts of America and the Western Region Executive Committee.

Elder Simpson also holds the coveted Silver Beaver. Before being named to the position, Bishopric of his church Elder Simpson was employed by the Pacific Telephone Co. for 20 years and served in North Africa and the Middle East as an Air Force Captain during World War II.

Mel Gillette, president of the Cahokia Mound Council, Boy Scouts of America, will serve as master-of-ceremonies. Dr. Thomas Layloff of Granite City is the dinner chairman.

"The purpose of the dinner is to give much deserved recognition to the hundreds of Scout leaders serving in the Cahokia Mound Council," Dr. Layloff said.

"The Scout masters, Den Mothers, Cubmasters, Explorer Advisors, in addition to commissioners and committeemen, give freely of their time, talent and money to work with, on many cases, other people's children, in an effort to make this area a little better place to live."

"Feb. 8 is the official date of the 63rd anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America and the 23rd anniversary of our local council."

"We have what we feel will be not only a good dinner that you don't have to cook, but a really first-rate program."

The dinner will be open to the public and tickets are $3.50 per person on a first-come, first-served basis.

According to Dr. Layloff, Scouters and friends of Scouting planning to attend should not delay in getting their tickets as the dinner will be limited to the first 375 persons buying their tickets.
Tickets may be obtained from the Boy Scout Service Center, 1338A Niedringhaus Ave., Granite City, from all assistant district commissioners, members of the Council Activities Committees, the Boy Scout professional staff and the district chairman. Tickets must be obtained by Feb. 2.

Percy Bill Would Raise Child Nutrition Grants

Senator Charles H. Percy (R-Ill.) introduced on Monday legislation to create a comprehensive nutritional program to serve all of the nation's needy children.

The bill would abolish 23 categorical programs "each with its own regulations, funding and matching formulae," and replace them with a "simplified bloc grant" to the states for all child nutrition programs.

Percy pointed out that the USDA now spends about $1.4 billion annually on child nutrition programs. "But," he said, "bureaucratic barriers... now prevent state educational agencies from efficiently directing money to where the need and demand are greatest, particularly where the poor are concerned."

"This simplification alone would redirect millions of dollars now spent on overhead to meals for the malnourished," he said.

Percy, ranking Republican on the Select Committee on Nutrition and Human Needs, said that under his bill, states would receive a single bloc grant to support all child feeding programs, in or out of school, throughout the entire year.

"The Comprehensive Child Nutrition Act of 1972 would strengthen the states' ability to provide nutritious meals to all eligible children, at all times, in all places and by all means," Percy said.

In addition to the new bloc grant concept, the Percy proposal would increase the total amount of spending for the 23 programs by $500 million, to $1.9 billion.

It would eliminate state matching grant requirements, as well as provide for:

Reimbursement for all costs related to food preparation and delivery except construction of food service facilities.

Reimbursement for breakfasts, lunches, or snacks if they meet nutritional standards.

Free meals to children at or below the poverty level.

Authority for states to bypass local authorities if they refuse to establish a child nutrition program.

State accountability by means of federal review of state plans and reports.

The new unified program would be administered by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. The 23 programs to be replaced are now administered by the Department of Agriculture.

However, Percy said, ten other sources of federal funds for child nutrition programs would remain where they are now in the Office of Economic Opportunity, Department of Housing and Urban Development, or HEW.

Percy previously introduced the Comprehensive Child Nutrition Bill in August 1972 but no action was taken in the 92nd Congress.

Future Development of TV Told to Optimists

Future techniques in electronics that some day will permit householders to do their banking, shopping and other chores through videotape attachments on their television sets were outlined at a meeting of the Optimist Club by Jack Patterson, general manager of Interstate Supply Co., St. Louis distributors for RCA. Patterson, who was introduced to club members by Louis Pashoff of State Radio & TV Co., program chairman, said one of the latest developments already in production is a videotape attachment that will permit a person to tape any television program he wishes to see but cannot be present to watch, and then run the tape through the television and view it later at his leisure.

Working on the same principle, but still five to ten years in the future, are the prospects of attachments that will permit television owners to do their complete banking service and order from shops and stores through their TV sets.

He explained technical developments that will make these things possible and illustrated his talk with slides.

A brief business session was held with announcements that plans are being developed for a "sports show" to be held on dates yet to be announced.

Several members of the club plan to attend a district meeting to be held in Springfield Feb. 3 and 4.

The plan calls for the installation of a forced sewer from Doherty Slough to the present Granite City Ames Avenue sewer south of Ponton Road.

In other business, the board voted to sell a used photocopy machine to Ponton Beach if the village board approves the purchase at its meeting Thursday. The unit will sell for $430.

Grand Jury Asks Date Be Set to Build Jail

By MARION BARTOSIAK Press-Record Staff Writer

The Madison County Grand Jury recommends that the Madison County Board begin immediately to plan a new jail in a report issued to the public.

The jurors also ask that the board report on plans and a completion date for a new jail prior to the expiration of the term of the next grand jury.

The report agreed with past jurors that the jail is antiquated, dirty, demeaning and beyond economical modernization and should be replaced with a jail to be functional and not designed as a monument.

It said it should include visiting facilities, recreation and exercise facilities for inmates and facilities for the sheriff's force, and that private quarters for the sheriff are unnecessary.

During the interim the jury recommended that the jail be thoroughly cleaned and painted where necessary. It recommended that federal revenue sharing funds finance the project.

The jury also recommended that the county board take steps toward full utilization of the court house by closing in the rounds to create additional court rooms and office space and a permanent meeting room for the grand jury.

It criticized the practice of storing trash on the main floor as being unsightly, dirty and an indication of poor house keeping.

The report said the jury was "appalled" when it learned that there was only one registered nurse available on a 40-hour a week basis. It said a nurse should be available in the building at all hours.

It suggested that it thought should be given to additional utilization of the tuberculosis outpatient clinic as a county comprehensive health center.

The jury also expressed concern in other areas as follows:

Preparation of cases. In several instances the jury noted that police witnesses were not properly organized to present the case. There was much shuffling of paper and vital evidence although present could not be readily located.

Female police officers. In cases involving female personnel male officers were hard pressed to provide vital information. The jury recommended that the various police agencies take steps to provide readily available and trained police women to reduce hazards, protect female prisoners, assist in interrogation and aid in case preparation.

Second offenders. The grand jury strongly recommends that probation for second offenders be an extreme exception, and based on clear-cut fact that incarceration would be in opposition to justice.

Selling of habit-forming drugs. The jury requests that the County Board take steps to apprise the members of the legislature of its very vital concern over the matter of the sale of habit-forming drugs. It is our considered opinion that this should be a crime punishable by life imprisonment.

Central Record. The jury strongly recommends that a central records system under the jurisdiction of the sheriff be established at a very early date.

County Board. Begin work immediately on priorities for the county. Priorities to be published prior to the end of the second quarter 1973. The county is relatively affluent and no real reason exists for the continued dragging of feet.

There is no reason for appointment of any commissions or committees made up of members not currently members of the board. The board has ample powers and means available to summon qualified technical help to assist it in performing legal duties.

Processing of evidence. The jury is extremely alarmed and apprehensive as concerns the untidy long periods of time involved in the processing of evidence through the crime laboratories.

On several occasions we listened to and heard presentations that were not complete because proper reports from laboratories were not available.

In this spite of the fact that evidence had been submitted for examination weeks and months prior to the presentation of the case to the jury.

Our apprehension and concern became more acute due to the fact that the cases involved the hard habit forming drugs and the suspects were known to their nefarious activities of their own will.

Therefore, the jury in the strongest possible terms and with a deep sense of responsibility and concern recommends that the County Board, the states attorney, the sheriff and the court take every reasonable step to overcome this situation as fast as possible. Further that the officials named report to the next grand jury prior to the expiration of its term as to the results that have been taken or are to be taken and when.

Freight Shipments at Locks Set Record

A record year was reported for 1972 at the Chain of Rocks Locks and Canal as freight tonnage shipped through the locks increased by more than 10% over the former record, set in 1970, the U. S. Corps of Engineers reported this week.

Shipments during 1972 totaled 56,788,448 tons, significantly higher than the 50,747,018 tons recorded in 1970. A dip to 48,705,045 tons was noted in 1971.

At the end of November, the 1970 record already had been broken as shipments of 53,859,333 tons had been recorded for the 11 months. December's shipments of 3,709,115 tons increased the total.

Two outstanding months were, in part, responsible for 1972 being a record year. The former monthly record of 5,375,775 tons in October 1970 was broken in May 1972 with shipments of 5,430,775 tons.

In October 1972, the May record was broken as 5,591,130 tons of freight were locked through the canal. In both months, large grain shipments were responsible for boosting the totals.

December shipments included 3,702,965 tons of commodities, freight and 6,200 tons of contractors' shipments. A total of 688 lockages was reported last month bringing the total for the year to 10,571. A total of 645 lockages in December of 1971 brought the total for that year to 7,092.

It was reported that 4,875 vessels were locked through the canal last month, bringing total vessels for 1972 to 72,332. The number exceeds the 64,412 vessels reported during 1971.

The number of all types of vessels in December from November's totals with the exception of government contractor boats which increased from four to nine, passenger boats with zero each month, U. S. tow boats with two each month and government construction boats with three each month.

Commercial tow boats declined from 1,554 in November to 828 in December, barges were down from 5,270 to 4,015, private recreation boats went from 48 to 15, government barges declined from four to three and government patrol boats went from eight in November to three in December.

Total commercial tonnage moving upriver in December was 1,391,785 tons and 2,311,100 tons moved downstream. Freight shipments included: petroleum products, 425,150 tons upriver, 268,700 tons downriver; grain, 23,600 up, 1,745,800 down; coal, 152,500 up, 1,400 down; cement, sand and gravel, 16,800 up, 23,300 down; sulphur, none up, 10,200 down; miscellaneous commodities, 408,250 up.

Downriver iron and steel products 36,265 up, 101,050 down, chemicals, 329,300 up, 38,900 down.

Total shipments each month during 1972, from January through December, were: 2,909,189 tons; 3,146,572 tons; 4,720,995 tons; 4,905,244 tons; 5,430,775 tons; 5,142,448 tons; 5,414,548 tons; 5,427,612 tons; 5,222,355 tons; 5,591,130 tons; 5,054,465 tons; and 3,709,115 tons.

Vice Raid Conducted On Collinsville Road

Madison County sheriff's deputies and state police conducted a vice raid at the Club J, 9401 Collinsville Road, at 1 p.m. Monday after obtaining a search warrant.

The report said the raid resulted from the combined efforts of the state and county departments and representatives of the Organized Crime Council, Illinois Bureau of Investigation and the U.S. Treasury Department.

Air Force Rescue, Recovery Crews Directed From Scott Base Saved 1,748 Lives in 1972

Hq. Aerospace Rescue and Recovery Service, Scott Air Force Base, Ill.—Nearly 1,750 people around the world owe their lives to daring rescue efforts by Aerospace Rescue and Recovery Service (ARRS) aircrews in 1972.

In what proved to be an exciting and busy year for U. S. Air Force rescue teams, 1,748 people were rescued from probable death.

Of that total, 301 were downed American flyers in Southeast Asia. 101 were rescued in Southeast Asia in other than combat conditions, and 1,346 were rescued in other areas of the world.

ARRS crews proved that, while primarily designed to support U. S. military installations, their expertise is available to all nations of the world, and to all people—military or civilian.

More than 1,270 of the total saves were civilians, and the bulk of those were foreign nationals.

Flying search and rescue fixed wing aircraft and helicopters, ARRS units are located at numerous sites in the continental United States, western Europe and the Pacific to provide rescue resources for emergencies.

One of the first missions of 1972 involved the rescue of an Icelandic national from frigid seas after his light aircraft crashed into the 35-degree water three miles south of Reykjavik, Iceland, Airport.

Within 14 minutes after he crashed, an ARRS HH-3 Jolly Green Giant helicopter crew from Keflavik, Iceland, had located the crash site and within a few minutes hoisted the pilot safely on board the hovering helicopter.

The next day, another ARRS unit from Elmendorf Air Force Base near Anchorage, Alaska, was instrumental in locating and transporting a Russian seaman from a fishing trawler who was suffering from peritonitis, an inflammation of the membrane lining the abdomen, and required immediate medical attention.

After being located by ARRS HC-130 Hercules, an HH-3 transferred him from the deck of the ship to Beaufort, Alaska, where the Hercules flew him to a nearby medical facility.

Surgeons there said that without the immediate evacuation, the sailor's chances of living would have been marginal.

A dual rescue was recorded in March by one ARRS helicopter crew from Okinawa. A Ryukyuan infant had contracted an advanced case of pneumonia, an immediate medical evacuation from her remote home was necessary to save her life.

After the crewmembers had flown her to a waiting ambulance, they received a call from the Rescue Coordination Center that a captain of another Russian vessel, the Ardatov, had requested an immediate medical evacuation of a sailor who had Green Giant helicopter crew and suffered a severe heart attack.

The crew refueled the Jolly again departed. The chopper arrived at the Ardatov's position in about 30 minutes, and found the ship dead in the water.

The pilot hovered the helicopter over the bow of the tugboat and lowered a pararescueman (PJ) to the deck on a rescue hoist and cable. A litter also was lowered and the seaman and PJ were hoisted aboard.

The critically ill seaman was flown to a nearby air base, where an ambulance transported him to the Seventh Day Adventist Hospital in Naha City, Okinawa.

One massive effort during the summer of 1972 didn't result in any saves being directly credited to ARRS crews, but it did result in the airlift of more than 100,000 pounds of food and clothing to flooded villages in central and northern Luzon in the Philippines.

Helicopters from Clark Air Base, Philippines, also transported U. S. Army DART (Disaster Area Relief Teams) squads to various towns in the Philippines to assist in organizing joint American-Philippine disaster relief work.

American citizens weren't exempt from ARRS efforts, either. Four stranded climbers midway up the face of El Capitan Mountain in Yosemite National Park were rescued by an ARRS HH-52 Super Jolly Green Giant helicopter.

It was the eighth time in a four-month period that ARRS rescue crews had flown to the park to assist injured park visitors.

The Military Assistance for Safety in Traffic (MAST) program accounted for more than 50 lives saved.

In this program, military helicopters respond to civilian medical emergencies when time is critical and no other civilian resources are available. Two ARRS units participated in this program.

On many occasions, newborn or premature babies were rushed from remote sites to medical facilities.

And a man who had fallen 175 feet into a canyon while climbing to a cave was pulled to safety by an ARRS crew in New Mexico. ARRS crews also were busy in a wide variety of other critical missions.

For example, when Apollo 16 and Apollo 17 were launched from Cape Kennedy, ARRS crews were on alert at strategic locations around the world to provide ready rescue support at the launch site, during the launch, secondary and contingency landing, and planned end of mission, in the event of an emergency.

Two ARRS crews placed second in the 1972 International Helicopter Search and Rescue Competition held at Lee-on-Solent, England, during July.

As runners-up in the six day event, the U. S. team claimed the Kaman Aerospace trophy plus the Rolls Royce Trophy for placing first in the "Scramble" phase of the competition.

Another massive effort sparked by serious flooding near Seoul, Korea, accounted for nearly 750 saves. ARRS crews stationed at Osan AB, Korea, used HH-43 Huskie and HH-3 Jolly Green Giant helicopters to place survivors from roof tops, telephone poles and floating debris in the raging Han River near Seoul.

The initial call for help came on a Saturday in late August when seven people were trapped in trees.

When the weekend ended, 100 times that many people had been rescued, nearly all during torrential rains.

The ARRS crews were picking up every person viable, putting those who were not injured on higher ground and evacuating the old and the ill to Osan Air Base.

The general area around Osan was flooded by water three to six feet deep and rising rapidly, becoming more and more turbulent.

When the flood waters began to recede, there were more than 23,000 refugees. Switching from rescue to relief efforts, the ARRS crews airlifted disaster teams, food, clothing, and medical supplies to the stricken villagers.

The last massive effort of 1972 found 61 Korean, Japanese and Filipino mariners in three dramatic incidents owing their lives to rescue crews. It all began when eight shipwrecked Korean fishermen were rescued from a rock off the coast of Korea after three days of exposure to subfreezing temperatures.

Twenty-four more saves were recorded when PJs came to the aid of a Japanese fishing vessel which had run aground on a coral reef several hundred miles northwest of Guam.

The final and largest rescue came when 29 Filipino merchant seamen—and one orangutan—were hoisted to safety aboard a helicopter from two lifeboats 500 miles northeast of the Philippines after their boat had been swamped.

An HC-130 crew set a world non-stop distance record by a turbo-prop aircraft in late February—flying a straight line distance of 8,790 miles.

The ARRS crew was in the air 21 hours and 12 minutes during the historic flight from Chung Chuan Kang Air Base, Taiwan, to ARRS Headquarters at Scott AFB, Illinois.

And the individual laurels once again were of significance, being topped by the presentation of the Sixth Annual AVCO-Aviation Space Writers Association (AWA) Helicopter Heroism Award to Major Kenneth E. Ernest.

He received the award for the daring rescue of a downed F-105 Thunderchief pilot after his aircraft had been hit by enemy ground fire near the Mu Gia Pass in Southeast Asia.

Despite intense flight turbulence, low clouds, enemy surface-to-air missiles and a barrage of small arms fire, plaque presented him by the Insurance and Organization department employees for service to the organization during his three one-year terms. Engelke of Granite City is seen with the 1972 Membership Loyalty Award; members submit names for the loyalty award each year. James Heepke, chairman of the Young Farmers Committee, presented the award to Engelke.

Major Ernest piloted his HH-3 helicopter on one successful mission to rescue the F-105 pilot.

More than 33,000 military awards and decorations have been presented to ARRS personnel in Southeast Asia since 1964—including one Medal of Honor, 39 Air Force Crosses and over 600 Silver Stars.

The year 1972 was another rewarding one for ARRS crews. Their feats and accomplishments now total more than 12,000 lives saved in the 27-year history of the command.

COURSE, EXHIBIT AND OPEN HOUSE PLANNED

The Neighborhood Three Girl Scout Leaders Association held its first meeting of the new year at St. John's United Church of Christ. The chairman, Mrs. Doris Stotz, led the pledge of allegiance and reciting of the new promise.

She introduced the district chairman, Mrs. Diana Hessel, and district advisor, Mrs. Chris Durkee, who spoke on sustaining membership enrollment.

A report was given on the 1972 "festival of giving" and Mrs. Stotz distributed questionnaires which all leaders are to fill out and return to Mrs. Hessel or Mrs. Durkee by Feb. 21.

Neighborhood Five will be in charge of an arts and crafts course Jan. 31 at the Nameoki Recreation Center from 9:30 a.m. to 2 p.m.

Mrs. Joan Yetter, arts chairman, announced that the third annual art exhibit and contest will be held at St. John's on Feb. 10 from noon to 3 p.m. She noted that all parents are being urged to attend to view individual scouts' entries. Judging will be according to the four levels—Brownies, Juniors, Cadettes and Seniors.

The chairman announced that an open house for the new River Bluffs Council office in Glen Carbon will be held for the general membership on Feb. 17 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m.

On Feb. 23, Neighborhood One will coordinate the annual Thinking Day program with representatives from all seven neighborhood associations. Mrs. Sandy Townzen will represent Neighborhood Three.

Multi-media first-aid course will be held March 20 and 27 at Camp Chan-Ya-Ta from 9:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. and again on April 5 and 12 at Camp Keck. Those interested are to contact their consultant for information on costs and supplies.

Also discussed was a Junior, Cadette and Senior trip to an Amish village in Arthur, Ill. Refreshments were served to 28 by Webster School leaders.

The next association meeting will be at St. John's Feb. 29 at 9:30 a.m., at which time troop registrations must be turned in. A service team meeting is scheduled for Feb. 19.

STEVE HURT HONORED AT FAREWELL PARTY

A farewell party was given at the Good Shepherd United Methodist Church by the Youth Fellowship in honor of Steve Hurt, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Royal Hurt, 2408 St. Clair Ave., who then left for Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., for an assignment with the U.S. Army.

Erwin Stengel led the group in prayer and refreshments were served to 30.

CADETTE FIESTA AND SKILL DAY SCHEDULED

The service team of Girl Scout Neighborhood Three met at the home of Mrs. Pat McKee, 2110 Hodges Ave., to complete the calendar for 1973. Troop and neighborhood events were discussed.

Prior to the meeting, the members celebrated the birthday of Mrs. McKee; hostesses were Mrs. Carmen Grider and Mrs. Roberta Werner.

Mrs. McKee reported for the nominating committee and a report was given on the annual "festival of giving" by the chairman, Mrs. Doris Stotz. Mrs. McKee, organizer for Sacred Heart, announced that a new Junior Scout troop is being organized. Mrs. Stotz noted that Miss Judy McCarthy will join the volunteer staff in the Cadette level.

Also discussed were ways to encourage sixth grade juniors to join as Cadettes, including a "fiesta" and an outdoor camp skill day later this year.

Consultants were in charge of a roundtable meeting at a Jan. 18 leaders' meeting, held at St. John's United Church of Christ with Webster School leaders as hostesses.

The chairman announced that leaders are to begin collecting registration fees now, to be completed by the Feb. 20 association meeting or at the latest, March 1.

Mrs. Joan Yetter will be in charge of the Neighborhood's third annual art show Feb. 10 at St. John's.

Dates were announced for individual school fly-up programs in May, and it was decided to schedule prospective Brownie scout recruitment for September 1973.

Leaders were reminded of a district song session, taught by Senior Troop 1177, held at St. John's United Church.

Refreshments were served to those mentioned and Mesdames Velma Collins, Eva Arbogast, Pat Eaton and Kevin McKee. The next service team meeting will be Feb. 13 at the McKee home, with Mrs. Eaton and Mary Fryntko as hostesses.

ESTHER CLASS MEETS WITH MISS LASSEN

Miss Altha Lassen entertained the Queen Esther Class of the First Baptist Church of Madison in her home, 1829 Third St.

The meeting opened with singing of the class song, "Make Me a Channel of Blessing," followed by repeating of the class colors, flower, aim and Scripture in unison.

Mrs. Gertrude McManaway presented the devotional, using "Prayer" as her theme, and Miss Nora Rogers led in prayer.

Roll call was answered by Mesdames Verina Willman, Irene Todd, Peggy Inman, Lucille Veach, Ora James and a visitor, Mrs. Zelma Scroggins, with each quoting a Bible verse.

Mrs. McManaway thanked the class for a sunshine box sent while she was hospitalized. A set well card was signed by each member to be sent to Mrs. Jerri Stein, class teacher, who has been convalescing at home with a fractured ankle.

Refreshments were served by the hostess. The February meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Veach.

Sacred Heart Society Installs

Sacred Heart Altar Society held its annual election and installation of new officers at the church, with Mrs. Marge Greenwald serving as installing officer.

Mrs. Greenwald presented each officer with a long stemmed red rose as she repeated the oath of office. Those who will serve this year, include Mrs. Marie Pehn, president; Mrs. Cecil Cruise, vice-president; Mrs. Jo Thomas, secretary; and Mrs. Kathy Foster, treasurer.

After the ceremonies, refreshments were served by Mrs. Mary Kristian and a committee.

The retiring president, Mrs. Frances Toth, presided at the business session. She announced the altar society will sponsor a ladies' softball team this summer and another newly-organized Girl Scout troop. Tentative plans were made for a bake sale in March.

Mrs. Greenwald, Granite City area chairman for the Mother's March Against Birth Defects, asked members to volunteer their services in the March of Dimes door-to-door fund-raising campaign, scheduled to take place Sunday throughout the community.

The Blood Donor Program, currently being sponsored by Quad-City Church Women Un-ted, was reviewed by Mrs. Gail Gargac, chairman, who explained the procedures for participating on a congregation-wide basis.

Many local churches are taking part in the program, which guarantees the blood needs of all families will be met for one year when one-fourth of the church membership contributes blood through the American Red Cross-Church Women United joint projects, Mrs. Gargac explained to the society members.

Education, Health Program 'Y' Is Praised

National recognition has been given to the Tri-City Area Young Men's Christian Association for its health and physical education program, Marvin Van Meire, executive director, announced this week.

A certificate of merit was awarded in recognition of the quality of service performed in one of the major current thrusts of YMCAs across the United States: reducing health problems by strengthening physical and mental health.

Presented by the National Council of YMCAs through its National and Area Physical Education Committee, the certificate allows the Tri-City Area YMCA to enter its registered amateur athletes in official area and national sports competition with other YMCAs around the country. It can also participate in national physical education programs. The certification is given every three years to those associations that meet the standards set by the YMCA National Health and Physical Education Committee, and who request it.

To meet the standards, according to Kent D. Dunn, physical education director, the Tri-City Area YMCA must conduct "a balanced and interesting program of physical education; have a physical education committee and volunteer leaders to give guidance in policy and program development; and use the National YMCA Aquatic Program in its building, the community and its camp."

It must also maintain qualified professional leadership to guide its program, operate in accordance with an adequate up-to-date written policy and be a member in good standing of the National Council of YMCAs.

"Perhaps most important of all," Dunn said, "A local association receiving the certificate must continually evaluate, revise, amplify and modernize its physical education program to meet changing community needs."

Factionalism May Cause Legislative Stalemate

By KEN WATSON
Copley News Service

Springfield. The two-party system may be on a moratorium in Illinois.

Republicans and Democrats do fill the seats in the 78th General Assembly, but both parties are so divided as to make the traditional procedures unworkable.

To those at the Statehouse with an historical bent, the 1973 legislature resembles a European parliament.

And the splintering could well result in some of those bitter deadlocks which caused so much trouble in countries like France, Italy and West Germany.

That fierce fight over the House speakership not only left the majority Republicans stubbornly split into two bitter factions, but caused some fragmentation among the Democrats.

Prolonged infighting among the various House factions is bound to have repercussions in the currently stable Senate, sooner or later.

The House factions are already clearly identifiable.

Republicans are grouped behind either House Speaker W. Robert Blair of Park Forest or the former majority leader, Henry Hyde of Park Ridge, who spearheaded the unsuccessful fight to unseat Blair from the speakership.

Blair is generally credited with 60 of the 90 House members, and Hyde with about 30. There are a few waverers in each camp and some members are trying as best they can to be independent or neutral.

On the Democratic side, minority leader Clyde Chaste of Anna holds a clear edge in support numerically, but his troops are regarded as likely to fade away on showdown votes.

Although Chaste made a strong run for the speakership, many fellow Democrats supported him only halfheartedly and there was no great wave of anguish when he failed to win.

During the new session Chaste faces a steady war of attrition from the Chicago liberal or reform forces led by intellectually brilliant but occasionally abrasive Harold A. Katz of Glenview.

There is a strong segment of Statehouse opinion that believes Chaste has passed his peak and that Katz is preparing the way for a firm takeover when the House next undergoes reorganization.

Katz, however, has a problem of his own on the liberal front with Eugene Chapman of Arlington Heights, a leader in the steadily growing women's influence in the legislature.

Although Mrs. Chapman and her loyal House allies lack the strength to derail Katz's ambition, they can undoubtedly slow his track.

What is most significant about the unprecedented legislative splintering is: How is any worthwhile legislation to be enacted?

The various forces are going to have to compromise frequently if the 89 votes needed for passage of a bill are to be gathered.

Add to the chamber confusion the coolness with which
